

Democrats Win Alaska's First State Election

Take Senate Seat, Leading
For Another

BY WILLIAM J. TOBIN

Juneau — A smashing Democratic victory in Alaska's first state election emerged today as returns mounted from the vast northern territory's 287 precincts.

Democrats led in all major races and were assured of overwhelming control of the 60-member state legislature. Less than half of the estimated total vote of about 40,000 in yesterday's general election had been reported, but big city precincts still out were considered sure to reinforce the steadily growing Democratic lead.

Republicans still had a chance in the major contest between Democrat Ernest Gruening and Republican Mike Stepovich for one of the new state's two United States Senate seats.

But Gruening, appointed governor of Alaska for more than 13 years during New Deal and Fair Deal administrations, slowly pulled ahead after the lead changed several times during the night.

Bartlett Wins Easily
Stepovich, who resigned as governor to make the senate race, was the Republicans' strongest candidate for any major office.

E. L. Bartlett, Alaska's Democratic delegate to congress for the past 14 years, captured one U. S. senate seat in a landslide.

Ralph Rivers, Democratic nominee for the single U. S. house seat from Alaska, claimed victory on the basis of the mounting returns.

William Egan, the Democratic choice for governor, was increasing his margin in the race for the first elected governor of Alaska.

The closest major race was between Gruening and Stepovich, another former governor—who had been favored on the basis of a 5,700-vote margin he had posted over Gruening in a primary election three months ago.

Unofficial returns from 134 precincts gave Bartlett 13,158 votes to 2,394 for Republican R. E. Robertson and 183 for independent Keith Capper.

Gruening had 8,323 votes to 7,734 for Stepovich.

Rivers had 8,878 to 7,241 for Republican Henry Benson.

Trend for Democrats
Egan had polled 9,753 votes to 5,994 for John Butrovich, Jr., the GOP nominee. Independent Mike Dollinger had a total of 157.

The vote totals did not include the big city precincts of Anchorage, Fairbanks and Ketchikan, but the trend favored continued leads for the Democratic candidates.

The total vote appeared likely to surpass 40,000—and the complete tally from the city precincts was not expected until later today.

Felix J. Toner, chairman of the Alaska Democratic central committee, issued a victory statement at Juneau.

"The tremendous Democratic victory in yesterday's election indicates once again that the people of Alaska think for themselves and act as they want," Toner said.

Schwartzkopf Dies at Home

In New Jersey

West Orange, N.J. — Maj. Gen. H. Norman Schwartzkopf, 63, (ret.), who led the New Jersey state police at the time of the Lindbergh kidnaping case, died last night at his home.

He became known to millions of radio listeners through his weekly commentaries on the "Gang Busters" radio show.

The cause of death was not disclosed.

Schwartzkopf had a talent for organization that stood him in good stead around the world.

A skilled soldier - diplomat who served his country on important military missions, he also was the organizer and first superintendent of the New Jersey state police and remodeler of the Iranian police.

Led Kidnap Hunt
It was Schwartzkopf who, in 1932, led the police hunt for the kidnaper of the Charles A. Lindbergh baby. Gov. Harold G. Hoffman charged he had "bungled" the case.

Hoffman's quarrel with Schwartzkopf in the Lindbergh baby kidnaping was based on Hoffman's conviction that more than one person was involved in the kidnaping for which Bruno Richard Hauptmann was convicted and executed.

Hauptmann was executed April 3, 1936, for the crime in which the first born son of Charles A. Lindbergh was abducted and slain.

Eighteen years later, in 1954, Schwartzkopf headed an investigation into the New Jersey Division of Public Security when Hoffman was its chief.

Hoffman was suspended from the post and when he died a few months afterwards it was revealed he had mis-handled the division's funds to cover up a bank embezzlement early in his political life.

Union Asks Quiz On TVA Contract For Swiss Firm

Milwaukee — Local 248 of the United Auto Workers union at the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company, has demanded a congressional investigation of the Tennessee Valley Authority's purchase of 3 electric generators from a Swiss firm.

Allis - Chalmers submitted the lowest bid by an American firm, for the generators, $4,290,180, but the Swiss concern submitted a bid of $2,639,000.

Edward J. Merten, Local 248 president, pointed out that A-C's main West Allis plant has 2,300 workers laid off. He asked Wisconsin senators and congressmen "to investigate spending of the American taxpayers' money in foreign countries while our own economy is in jeopardy and unemployment is at a high level."

TVA denied discriminating against American industry, declaring the agency could save 35 to 40 per cent on the purchase price by accepting the Swiss firm's offer.

Eastern and Engineers Go To U. S. Court

National Airlines,
Machinists Agree
On New Contract

Miami — Eastern Air Lines and its striking flight engineers today took their dispute into federal court. The 3-day-old strike is tying up the nation's largest air line in a peak travel season.

The labor picture brightened for other air lines. National Airlines and its machinists agreed to a new contract, heading off a walkout, and the Air Line Pilots association bowed to a court order temporarily forbidding a strike against American Air Lines.

As the Thanksgiving weekend neared, Eastern and Trans World Air Lines appeared far from settling their labor difficulties.

On Florida's southeast coast, the so-called gold coast, air reservations requests piled up. College students moaned they can't get home for the holidays.

Forced to Wait
Passengers could get night coach tickets for points north with a 2-day wait. The waiting list for first class flights ran five days.

Coming in by air, the situation was about the same. The earliest National Air Lines would accept reservations from New York to Miami was Monday, Dec. 1.

Railroad reservations were immediate—both ways.

W. J. Ficht of Seaboard Airline railroad said "we're adding two coaches on each train each way . . . we're not turning anyone away."

Traffic at Miami International airport yesterday was down more than 50 per cent from the same period last year. This time in 1957 Eastern Air Lines was flying 4,400 passengers in and out of the city daily. Eastern claims to handle 60 per cent of all passenger air traffic here.

A factor of importance to this tourist-conscious area is that Eastern provides the sole direct air link between Miami and 30 cities, including Detroit, Akron, Columbus and Cleveland, Ohio, Pittsburgh and Montreal.

If not settled quickly, the strike could have an economic wallop as severe as last winter, hotel men say.

Some anxious travelers tried to charter private planes. One firm, American Air Taxi, Inc., was swamped. Clark English, a spokesman for the firm, said he answered more than 100 additional calls mostly from people in a hurry.

American Air Lines appeared to have averted a strike by the Air Line Pilots association. The pilots said they would honor a court order directed against a walkout scheduled for last midnight.

Confesses He Killed Roommate

Detroit — A Hillsdale college student told Detroit police today he beat his roommate to death with a shotgun during a quarrel at their college room last night. Hillsdale police found the body.

Patrick John Flannery, 18, of Berkley, Mich., told Lt. Garfield Campbell, "You'd better arrest me. I did something real bad."

Lt. Campbell said the youth gave no explanation for the quarrel in which Thomas Neit-purchase price by accepting the Swiss firm's offer.

Nelson Voices Interest In Withholding System

Richard Schindhelm, 131 E. Roosevelt street, is surrounded by big birds, which, with their feathers plucked, will grace Thanksgiving tables Thursday.

Richard, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schindhelm, Appleton, had quite a time holding on to the turkey and the ingredient for pumpkin pie.

Thinks Plan Might Hike Tax Yields

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — Governor-elect Gaylord Nelson today expressed interest in the possibilities of a state income tax withholding system as he questioned state tax Commissioner Harry Harder on the budget requirements of the state tax administration during the next two years.

Harder was the first of the leading state Republican office holders whose continued service depends upon Nelson's decision to appear at the budget hearings. Harder's term expires next June. His department has been under fire from Democrats and Democratic publicists although Nelson has not criticized the commissioner directly. He was cordial in his questions during a long session here this morning.

Not Yet Committed

Nelson has not yet committed himself on the withholding tax idea that was favorably discussed in his party's campaign platform this year, but he asked Harder whether such a plan as now used by the federal government might increase state tax yields by capturing collections from transients and others. He said he also has a feeling that there are some Wisconsin residents "who just don't file a tax return now."

Harder was non committal about the virtues of payroll deduction, and said that co-operation between the state and federal revenue services in recent years has cut down the number of tax evaders.

New State Laws

At the same time, Harder volunteered that he wants new state laws to make punishment of tax delinquents more swift and vigorous. Nelson asked him to prepare a memorandum and indicated he may recommend such changes to the state legislature which will convene in six weeks.

Other highlights of the tax budget hearing:
The department asked for a biennial budget increase of more than $900,000 for a new record high total of nearly $8,000,000 for the next two years.

Aviation Fuel Taxes
Harder agreed with Nelson that it would probably be equitable to cancel the refunds of aviation fuel taxes now provided by law and devote about $700,000 a year of such money to airport improvements now financed by the general tax payer. The legislature has refused to take such action in the past.

Harder told Nelson that the federal government system of refunding farm machinery gasoline taxes to farmers is simpler than the state's but that the federal system amounts to a "blank check."

Farm Bureau Favors Sales Tax, End of Dairy Controls

BY RAY PAGEL

Post-Crescent News Service

Madison — The Wisconsin Farm Bureau Federation unanimously endorsed a state sales and use tax here Tuesday afternoon.

Delegates at the 39th annual convention called for revision of land condemnation procedures, favored national uniform time zones, a stepped-up program for tuberculosis testing of dairy cattle, and establishment of a university branch experiment station in southwest Wisconsin.

Regarded Favorably
They opposed production controls for the dairy industry, the union shop, and liberalization of social security.

But they tabled resolutions favoring removal of taxes on olcomargine and asking for a state egg grading law.

Percy Hardiman, Waukesha county dairyman, was named the Wisconsin Farm Bureau's new president.

The sales-use tax has been regarded favorably by the farm bureau. The 1957 convention endorsed it for school purposes.

This year the endorsement was broader. The resolution called for a sales and use tax which would replace the present personal property taxes.

National Referendum Would Ban Curbs on Corn Production

BY OVID A. MARTIN

Washington — Farmers voted in a referendum yesterday to end 25-year-old government production controls on corn, the nation's largest single crop.

This was the first time since before World war II that growers of a major crop has turned thumbs down on federal restrictions as a measure for stabilizing returns.

This politically significant action had been urged by Sec. of Agriculture Benson as a part of his controversial programs for reducing the government's role in agriculture.

Regional Balloting
Preliminary returns from 25 of the 26 major corn states in which balloting was conducted gave 246,475 votes to end federal restrictions and 100,064 to retain them. The other state — North Dakota — was delayed by adverse weather in tabulating its votes.

(A total of 290 votes were cast in Waupaca, Winnebago, and Outagamie counties. Calumet, not a corn county, didn't vote. The overall vote was 190 in favor of ending allotments, 97 against and three challenges.

The proposal to end allotments carried all three counties. Breakdown shows Outagamie, 52-18, Waupaca, 69-56 and Winnebago, 69-23.)

Father Kills Son in Shooting Accident

Spring Green — Philip Johnson, 17, of rural Spring Green, was shot and killed Tuesday while he and his father, Milo, were shooting pigeons in a barn on the family farm.

The father told Sauk county authorities his gun accidentally discharged as he swung it in an attempt to shoot pigeons from the barn rafters.

The boy died en route to the Richland Center hospital.

Nixon Helps Britain At Chapel Dedication

BY MILTON MARMOR

London — Vice President Nixon and 12 other Americans stood with Queen Elizabeth II in crowded St. Paul's cathedral today as Britain dedicated a memorial chapel to American war dead.

The pomp and pageantry of British royalty and the Church of England marked the solemn occasion.

Nixon flew to London yesterday to represent President Eisenhower at the ceremony. The 12 other Americans who had places of honor were next-of-kin of some of the 28,000 U. S. servicemen the chapel commemorates, men who died during World war II in Britain or in operations from British bases.

Bishop Dedicates Chapel
Eleven of the 12 had come from America by plane for the dedication. The 12th lives in London.

The bishop of London dedicated the chapel to mark "the common sacrifice made by the British and American peoples during the Second World War."

He said it honored "our brethren of the United States of America who, living and serving among us, gave their lives in the cause of freedom, justice and truth."

Nixon, in formal morning dress, arrived with his wife at St. Paul's a few minutes before the ceremony opened.

Then came the queen with Prince Philip, Queen Mother Elizabeth and Princess Margaret.

The vice president chatted briefly with the queen, then escorted her in the solemn procession down the nave. Prince Philip walked with Mrs. Nixon.

Nixon shook hands with the relatives of the American war dead and the queen spoke to them, then walked to her place beside Nixon.

A color guard of enlisted men from the three American services carried the Stars and Stripes to the dean of St. Paul's who placed it by the altar.

After the dedication and consecration by the bishop, the queen stepped forward and unveiled a marble pedestal on which the memorial roll of

Sulphuric Acid Mist Part of Air Pollution

Los Angeles — A smog of words filled the air today after the current air-pollution siege was blamed in part on sulphuric acid mist.

The county smog-control chief said yesterday the attack consists in part of an acid mist of the type blamed for smog deaths in Donora, Pa., and London, England.

He said it has him worried although he doesn't think the siege poses an immediate threat to health.

Smith Griswold, head of the county air pollution control district, told the county board of supervisors his chief concern is that no means yet exists for measuring the air's acid content.

Student Demonstration Broken Up in Athens

Athens — Riot police today broke up a forbidden student demonstration in support of Greece's appeal to the United Nations for independence for Cyprus.

About 15 students were injured in police charges, three of them seriously.

The government had banned the demonstration as a threat to peace and order.

Example of Spot Color on Page 1 Today

John Hurley, head of the engraving department, is working with Mueller to perfect this process here.

When the color, in this case red, is printed on top of black ink, different tones of reds, browns, grays and black are produced.

The overlay which becomes the color engraving is applied in various shades of gray. When this is shot on the engraving camera, it produces different densities in the engraving negative, and these produce the varied color shades.

This method differs from the method used in some full color advertising published in the Post - Crescent since August. These are 4-color ads using the three basic colors and black, which combine to get the full color effect.

Expect Allies Will Go to Air If Reds Close Berlin

Communists Would Have to Shoot Down Planes to Stop an Airlift; Convoys Could be Halted Easily

Bonn, Germany —The western allies are likely to challenge any East German effort to control their traffic to Berlin by taking to the air, not by trying to force through a ground convoy.

That is the opinion of informed western sources here. They say any idea of attempting to push an armed convoy through East Germany has been abandoned.

It would be easy for the communists to thwart a convoy attempt without resorting to arms, the allies reason. The East Germans would only have to throw some switches, tear up some rails or blow up a few bridges to stop allied trains or trucks.

Shoot Down Planes
But to stop an airlift, the communists would have to shoot down the planes. And western officials do not think the Russians want to run that risk of starting World War III.

Western authorities are confident of their ability to supply their 10,000 troops in West Berlin if the Soviet Union withdraws from 4-power occupation of the city and gives control of military traffic to its East German satellite regime.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev threatened withdrawal 10 days ago, but the Kremlin has yet to propose it formally to the United States, Britain and France. Some diplomats have suggested Moscow is stuck on the legal possibility that the west might assume Soviet occupation rights in Berlin.

Secret Plan
The allies have remained adamant in their refusal to be driven from Berlin or to recognize or deal with the communist regime of East Germany, which surrounds the city 110 miles from West Germany.

Allied officials reportedly have agreed on a secret plan to counter any East German attempt to exercise traffic controls.

Sources say the three western powers would refuse to allow East Germany to replace Russia in the 4-power air safety center in West Berlin, which controls air traffic in and out of the city.

The west would simply run the center of its own, the sources indicate. Allied transport planes, probably with fighter escort, would be given clearance to fly along the three air corridors linking West Germany with Berlin.

Within range of the corridors the Russians have a number of modern jet fighters. The East German regime has its own Soviet-trained air force equipped with Russian jets.

By ignoring air safety center rules and flying in the corridors the Russians have a

Police Check More School Bomb Scares

Albuquerque, N. M. —Police checked the third and fourth school explosion scares in Albuquerque today.

Separate anonymous telephone calls late yesterday warned of nitroglycerine being placed in two New Mexico university buildings — one a dormitory — and a bomb hidden in Highland High school.

Police found nothing. Those scares came just after Albuquerque officers searched two other schools, Sandia high and Andrew Jackson Junior high, for bombs.

Students there were evacuated, and police swarmed into the buildings, finally reporting they found nothing. The anonymous warnings came within two days of a blast at Heizer Junior High school in Hobbs, N. M. A single classroom was damaged, and Hobbs police found dynamite wrappings in the debris and some fuse.

ridors, these red fighters could make an airlift hazardous. But shooting to stop the transports is not expected.

The sources say that if one day allied military trans or road convoys through East Germany found East German officials instead of Russian soldiers waiting to check their credentials, they would turn back.

This would avoid an examination which might be interpreted as recognition of the satellite regime. At one time it had been suggested in allied circles that examination would be accepted on the theory that the 'East Germans' were just agents for the Russians. This apparently has been abandoned.

Former GMC Official Dies In Ohio

Charles F. Kettering Was Responsible for Many Inventions

Dayton, Ohio —Charles F. Kettering is dead but if you drove your car today, you'll know he's still around in spirit. When that starter whined and turned over the motor, that was "Boss Ket" giving you a helping hand.

The 82-year-old inventor, who died in his home here yesterday of a stroke, amassed a fortune through his genius in the automotive and other fields.

He was most widely acclaimed for his perfection of the self-starter in automobiles. But the 140 patents he held, on his own inventions and improvements on the inventions of others, helped revolutionize a dozen industries.

Cash Registers
When electric cash registers ring up sales throughout the world today, they'll be ringing in tribute to Kettering. He invented them.

And if you don't notice the noise in your car motor, you can thank him for that too. He had a hand in developing anti-knock gasoline.

The baby incubators that give many a tiny infant a push down the road of life; the refrigeration unit that keeps your food from spoiling; the pilotless airplane, aerial torpedo, diesel locomotives, accounting machines—Kettering helped develop all of these.

He lapsed into a coma from which he never emerged after suffering a second stroke in two days.

Only Son
Kettering's only son, Eugene, of Hinsdale, Ill., was with him when he died. The inventor's wife died in 1946.

His funeral will be held at 2 p.m. Friday in Dayton.

He was born on a farm near Loudonville, in north central Ohio, on Aug. 29, 1876.

In 1904, when he was 28, he earned his engineering degree at Ohio State university. That's when his amazing inventive career began.

It didn't end when, in 1947, he announced his retirement as head of the research division of General Motors Corp. He remained active, including his work in the Kettering foundation, which he founded in 1925 at Antioch college in Ohio.

A humanitarian as well as a multi-millionaire, he used some of his money to further the advancement of science. In 1915, he joined with Alfred P. Sloan, retired board chairman of General Motors, in establishing the Sloan-Kettering institute for cancer research.

No Brakes Cause Disaster

Detroit —A truck driver Jack Verdegall parked his big tractor-trailer at the Detroit end of the Ambassador bridge linking Detroit and Windsor, Ontario, to get custom clearance.

When police and Verdegall returned to the truck, the vehicle had knocked down a row of movable traffic signs; taken a money exchange booth from its foundation, ruined a fire plug, smashed through a fence and stopped an inch short of ramming the side of a house.

Police said the Canadian truck driver apparently forgot to set the brakes.

America Prepares to Pause for Day to Take Stock and Give Thanks

Church Services, Pageants and Parades Planned Across Nation

New York—Thanksgiving, a day for taking stock and counting blessings, will be celebrated throughout the land tomorrow with traditional feasting, parades and quiet prayer.

At Plymouth, Mass., where it all started, descendants of the Pilgrims and others will attend services in the First church (Unitarian). Later a pageant will portray the events linked with the founding of the colony in 1620-21.

President Eisenhower and his family and grandchildren will spend the holiday at their vacation spot in Augusta, Ga.

The Macy parade in New York, now viewed by additional millions via television, again will feature gigantic balloons bobbing down Manhattan's streets and avenues—in spite of a government ban on using helium to fill them.

Colorful Ceremony
The Macy people and the Goodyear people, who make the balloons, put their heads together and decided to inflate the balloons with air and suspend them from huge, mobile cranes.

Pittsburgh will open a 14-month bicentennial celebration with a colorful ceremony, including a parade of 180 bagpipers, a band concert, historical speeches, and the firing of cannons. Later Pittsburghers can take in the Penn State - Pitt football game, opening event of the bicentennial sports program.

At San Diego, Calif., Dr. Frank Lowe, president of the Council of Churches, called for a large attendance at a nonsectarian Thanksgiving service in the city-owned Balboa park, as an expression of gratitude for being able to use the park.

The Controversy
A controversy developed several months ago when Evangelist Billy Graham used the park for a meeting. A citizen protested the use of public property for religious purposes as a possible violation of the state constitution.

The issue was resolved when City Atty. Dean Depaul approved use of the park for Thanksgiving services if they are nonsectarian.

Many cities planned interfaith services, and Protestant, Catholic and Jewish houses of worship prepared for special separate services as well.

Some churches in New York adorned altars and chancels with fruits of the harvest, and after services of praise and thanksgiving will distribute the vegetables and fruits to needy families and hospitals.

Several agencies planned to make turkey dinners available for the derelicts of New York's Bowery and for other indigents in the city.

Ragamuffin Parade
Manhattan's Madison Square Boys' club scheduled its annual "ragamuffin parade" to rival the more pretentious Macy parade. Some 500 boys and girls will march in costumes they made themselves, and prizes will be awarded.

Railroads expected heavy usage by holiday travelers, especially in view of a strike that has closed down two major airlines.

To celebrate the occasion the University of Texas will dedicate a replica of Santa Rita No. 1, the first of 4,085 oil wells on the university's lands. They have contributed many millions to the school's permanent fund. An annual event at Austin is the Texas A and M-University of Texas football game.

Detroit will be host to the only professional football game of the day, the Detroit Lions versus the Green Bay Packers. The Motor City also holds a parade that rivals the Macy spectacle.

Opera Singer Lily Pons Gets Divorce

Juarez, Mexico —Court records show opera singer Lily Pons and conductor-composer Andre Kostelanetz have been divorced in Juarez.

After the disclosure, Miss Pons' agent in New York City issued a statement for the couple, who had been married 20 years. It said: "Our decision to lead separate lives was arrived at with our deepest regret and only after long and serious consideration. Unfortunately, we both feel that the demands of our respective careers have made it difficult to continue our marriage. We are and will always remain the best of friends."

Miss Pons appeared in first civil court personally Monday to file a divorce petition stating "incompatibility of characters." Her petition said she and Kostelanetz were married June 2, 1938. They have no children.

Coya's Aide Says Suit Called Off

Washington —The male secretary of blonde Rep. Coya Knutson (D-Minn) says his boss's husband is dropping a $200,000 suit against him charging alienation of affections and slander.

Thirty-year-old William Kjeldahl said this yesterday in making public a letter he said he got from Andy Knutson, the husband.

"Understand that I have nothing against you and the idea of suing you was not my idea in the first place," the letter said. "Please understand that people who wanted Coya to be beat started this whole thing."

The 45-year-old Minnesota congresswoman, who was defeated for reelection, could not be reached for comment. Neither could her 50-year-old husband, operator of a small hotel in Oklee, Minn.

Kjeldahl, who is executive secretary to Rep. Knutson, also showed newsmen a copy of another letter he said was sent by Andy Knutson to a federal judge. That letter said "I've fired my lawyer, Benedict F. Fitzgerald, and I don't want to sue Kjeldahl any more."

Fitzgerald said later that as far as he knew he hadn't been fired and that he has not asked that the suit be withdrawn. Kjeldahl, who said he met with Knutson Monday, told a news conference the dropping of the suit against him "is fully justified since there was never any evidence whatsoever to support the fantastic charges made."

The congressional secretary said there had been no settlement out of court.

Kostelanetz were married June 2, 1938. They have no children.

Study Lagging Economic Unity
The director of Wisconsin's division of corrections said, "In a recent 2-year study taken by our department, we found that 77 per cent of those put on probation had succeeded; that is, their probation did not have to be revoked."

He said probation costs Wisconsin $17.74 a month per probationer for supervision, compared with the cost of about $175 for keeping a man in prison.

Powers was one of three speakers at the annual fall banquet of the Wisconsin State Probation and Parole association.

Study Lagging Economic Unity

Bad Kreuznach, Germany —Premier de Gaulle came to West Germany today for the first time in 13 years to discuss lagging European economic unity and the communist threat to Berlin with Chancellor Adenauer.

Their closed meeting was centered on conflicting French and German views on European trade. Germany favors liberal trade policies for the 6-nation European Economic union which the two nations dominate. French insistence on economic protection has blocked expansion of the union into a general west European free trade system.

Western Policy
Western policy to counter the Soviet pressure on Berlin and broad aspects of European unity also were up for consideration.

De Gaulle flew to Germany for his first visit since 1945. His day-long visit returned a get-acquainted call from Adenauer last Sept. 14 at Colombey-Les-Deux-Eglises, the French general's country home.

De Gaulle's plane landed at the big U. S. air force base at Ramstein, where he was greeted by Adenauer. They took a special train 40 miles to Bad Kreuznach, a picturesque spa on the Nahe river.

The French premier brought along Foreign Minister Maurice Couve De Murville and Finance Minister Antoine Pinay. Adenauer was accompanied by Foreign Minister Heinrich Von Brentano, Economic Minister Ludwig Erhard and Finance Minister Franz Etzel.

The schedule called for a group meeting, lunch, private talks between Adenauer and de Gaulle, and a final communique.

The Germans were expected to make a major effort to get free trade area talks going again between France and Britain, the leading nations on either side of the European tariff question.

Tariff Wall
Erhard is known to be less than enthusiastic about France's desire to establish a solid tariff wall around the 17 proposed free trade countries. This is the condition Paris has placed on accepting the free trade project.

French informants denied reports that de Gaulle and Pinay brought with them some sort of compromise proposal designed to meet the objections of Erhard and British economists.

Largest Ship Built in Wisconsin Launched on Rain-Lashed Day

BY HARRY MAIER

Manitowoc—It was a cold, rain-splashed Tuesday afternoon for the launching of the S. S. Adam E. Cornelius, the largest self-unloader coal vessel to be built for the Great Lakes.

About 1,000 persons thronged about the yards of Manitowoc Shipbuilding Inc., to observe the launching of the ship designed by Arthur J. Zuehlke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Zuehlke, 1321 Alicia drive. He is a vice president of the firm.

Slid Sideways
The 666-foot ship slid sideways into the water causing a small tidal wave that drenched many spectators watching from across the river. Immediately three tugboats pushed it into the installation berth where workmen will continue the final stage of construction on the boat's superstructure.

The ship's keel was laid in October, 1957, and delivery date to the American Steamship Co., N. Y., is scheduled for May, 1959.

The 23,000 ton cargo vessel will rank among the largest on the Great Lakes, and will be operated by Boland and Cornelius of Buffalo, N. Y.

Adam E. Cornelius, Sr., was a co-founder of Manitowoc Shipbuilding.

It is the largest boat ever built in Wisconsin. Miles of piping and electrical cable went into the construction, as well as 7,500 tons of steel. More than 800 men were employed steadily in the construction.

42-Man Crew
The boat will carry limestone and coal with a crew of 42. The special equipment will permit unloading at the rate of 5,000 tons of stone per hour. More than 600 persons attended the launching luncheon.

William L. Wallace, president of Manitowoc Shipbuilding, presented a gift to Mrs. Cornelius.

Others on the program were John J. Boland, Jr., chairman of the board of American Steamship Co., and Adam E. Cornelius, Jr., president of American Steamship Co.

300 Persons Attend Rites for Comedian

Hollywood —Three hundred persons crowded into a tiny chapel to witness last rites for comedian Harry Einstein—better known as Parkyakarkus.

Rabbi Chaim Weinstein conducted the brief services yesterday. George Jessel read the eulogy.

Many of the mourners in the mausoleum were present at the Friars club Sunday when Einstein, 54, collapsed with a fatal heart attack. A few minutes before he was stricken, the comedian had delivered a show-stopping monologue at the Friars dinner honoring Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz.

A small army of 500 workmen started the pre-launching activities at 10 a. m. Their job was to actually lift the ship off the keel block to coincide with the launching schedule.

State Radio Seeks Air Time Increase

Saturday Broadcast Resumption Part of New $460,000 Budget

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison — Gov.-elect Gaylord Nelson Tuesday faced a strong plea for restoring the tax-supported state radio broadcasting schedule that prevailed before the Republican-controlled state legislature cut back the service in 1955.

Nelson heard H. B. McCarty head of the state-operated radio network, appeal for the restoration of Saturday broadcasts, cancelled three years ago.

McCarty asked for appropriations for the next two years of $460,000, against about $424,000 at present.

8 FM Stations
The sum would cover the operations costs of eight FM stations spread throughout the state and an AM station at Stevens Point.

(The budget figure is incomplete, to the extent that it does not include the substantial cost of operating WHA, which is the parent station for the network, furnishes the bulk of the program service and has most of the staff. The WHA budget is enclosed within the University of Wisconsin budget).

"Radio by its nature is a daily function. Regularity and dependability are absolutely essential", McCarty explained. He promised that a 4 per cent increase in operating funds would permit a 17 per cent increase in the hours of broadcast time.

Minimum Budget
Noted as one of the most persuasive witnesses who appears before budget committees, McCarty assured Nelson that his was a "bone budget, the irreducible minimum."

"There is no cushion in this one. Any cut must be reflected in a reduction of broadcast time," he said, adding that station WHA, which boasts that it is the oldest station in the nation, is celebrating its 40th anniversary this week.

Among the principal improvements McCarty proposed was the purchase of a new transmitter for the Stevens Point station.

Auditor Has His Records At Hearing

Concedes Audits are Not Regular, but He Cites Personnel Lack

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison—State Auditor J. J. Keliher juggled four heavy brief cases filled with reports and other documents into the room when he turned up to present his biennial budget.

Gov.-Elect Gaylord Nelson had some challenges of state auditing during his successful drive for the governorship.

Keliher conceded that audits of state agencies are not being made as regularly as the legislature provided when it set up the auditing service a decade ago.

But it is not his fault, he added, since he has tried desperately to recruit enough staff to do the job and to date has failed to do so.

Matter of Record
"It's all a matter of record," he continued. "It's been in each one of my reports," he said, pointing to a heavy stack of bound volumes that he brought into the room with him.

Nelson agreed and asked Keliher what he proposed to do about the staffing problem. The auditing jobs should be reclassified, to make them more attractive in titles and salary, Keliher said.

The auditor said he is also behind schedule in performing examinations of the books of the many local governments which are entitled to such service under law. About two thirds of his men are engaged in local affairs audits.

Two Drivers Ask Court Changes

Two motorists were tried on traffic charges before Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmiede after they filed requests for changes of venue from Kimberly justice court.

Floyd VanDenEng, 22, route 2, Kaukauna, was fined $15 and his license was revoked for three months for speeding. Execution of the revocation was stayed on condition he is not arrested for a moving traffic violation in the next year. VanDenEng originally was charged with driving 55 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone in Kimberly and 60 miles an hour in a 40-mile zone on County Trunk Z just outside the village. The charge was changed during the trial to 18 miles over the limit instead of 20. The offense will cost VanDenEng three points.

Eugene S. VandenBoogaard, 27, 303 S. Willow street, Kimberly, was charged with driving 35 miles an hour in a school zone. The charge was dismissed after trial.

Nursery School Being Formed

People planning formation of an Appleton Cooperative Nursery school met recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Richman, 118 N. Meade street. It was decided the non-profit, non-sectarian school will open Jan. 26 and will be held at First Methodist church.

The school will be in session from 9 a. m. to 11 a. m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week and will be run along the lines of the public school system. Tuition fees will provide funds for hiring a teacher. Mrs. Alan Townsend is in charge of applications.

Movie Rights Bought For 'Requiem for Nun'

New York — (AP) — The movie rights to a long-awaited Broadway play, "Requiem for a Nun," have gone to Buddy Adler, production director at 20th Century-Fox.

The drama by William Faulkner has been the ambitious project for several seasons of the acting couple, Zachary Scott and Ruth Ford. Arrival in New York has been delayed for a variety of reasons, but the play was exhibited in London last year and is now on the Theater Guild agenda for 1959.

Farmers Vote To End Curbs On Corn Crops

ed 4,317 to 1,871 Tuesday in favor of ending corn acreage allotments.

The results were expected to strengthen the Eisenhower administration's hands in dealing with the new Democrat-controlled congress on future farm legislation. The voting came on the heels of recent congressional and state elections in which Republicans lost ground in farming areas.

May Affect Other Crops

The vote to abandon corn controls may encourage the administration to sponsor plans to ease if not end restrictions on other crops, such as wheat, rice, peanuts and tobacco.

The net effect of the referendum was a grower acceptance of lower government price supports for the right to grow all the corn they wish, overproduction and relatively low prices now plaguing the corn supplies and lower grain support prices could mean larger supplies and lower prices for meat, poultry and dairy products.

Under the old program, planting allotments were assigned growers in a designated commercial area. Those complying were eligible for price supports between 75 and 90 per cent of parity.

Under the new program, there will be no allotments. All corn will be eligible for supports at 90 per cent of the average market price of corn during the three preceding years, but not less than 65 per cent of parity.

Officials estimated that supports next year will average

Ike and Dulles Will Discuss Berlin Crisis

A u gusta, Ga. — President Eisenhower will confer here Sunday with Secretary of State Dulles on the Berlin crisis and other international problems.

Announcing this today at the president's vacation headquarters, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said:

"This is not in the nature of an emergency meeting."

Hagerty told a news conference Dulles will stop at Augusta en route by plane to Mexico City for the inauguration of Mexico's new president, Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

between $112 and $115 a bushel. Under the control program, the average would have been between $1.24 and $1.27. Less than a fourth of the eligible growers voted in the referendum. Some farm groups—including the National Grange and the National Farmers Union—had criticized both the old and the new programs, contending that neither offers any hope of ending overproduction and relatively low prices now plaguing the corn supplies and lower grain support prices could mean larger supplies and lower prices for meat, poultry and dairy products.

Although controls had been in effect during recent years, only a small portion of the growers had complied with them. Most growers preferred to grow more, even if that meant lower prices and forced sale of surplus crops.

Returns from only two states favored the control program. They were Kentucky and North Carolina. Officials said voting in these states apparently reflected concern of growers that rejection of controls on corn might jeopardize controls on tobacco, which are popular among producers of this crop. Kentucky and North Carolina are top tobacco producers.

Farm Bureau For Sales Tax

Additional funds, would be allocated to local districts for school purposes.

A sales tax of one per cent would produce $50 million a year. In addition, there would be a corresponding use tax on items bought outside the state.

The personal property tax now amounts to about $67 million.

Policy Resolution

The policy resolution follows:

"We favor highest possible net spendable income for dairy farmers. We stand opposed to production controls. Milk and milk products should move freely between the states if they meet the standards set forth in U.S. health code.

"A program should be developed to provide for orderly disposal of dairy commodities and an orderly withdrawal of the government from our present price support program."

Ever since the Green Bay convention in 1955, Farm Bureau delegates have been sniping at the oleomargarine tax. It's discriminatory and foolish, and it's bad public relations, they have said.

This year the committee came out bluntly for repeal. "But don't forget that the oleo tax brought the state $253,000 last year," warned Milo K. Swanton, Madison.

Oleo Interests

Swanton lashed at the oleo interests for "unreasonable practices" in advertising and promotion. He said if the tax is repealed, the initiative should come from some source other than a farm or dairy group.

Discouraged by Swanton's attack, the supporters of the resolution withdrew and a motion to postpone action indefinitely was adopted.

The resolution opposing the closed union shop and other forms of compulsory membership was adopted without discussion.

"We shall resist any attempt to prevent states from enacting laws to prohibit compulsory union membership," the resolution said.

Better Treatment

Farmers want, they said, better treatment and more adequate compensation when land is taken from them for public projects. Many of them have seen their farms split up and buildings moved for highway improvements and relocations.

The resolution called for machinery to appeal appraisal decisions by the creation of an intermediary appeal body attached to the circuit court, and the right to a jury trial.

The resolution on social security opposed liberalization of the present program. "We believe that a social security program should be actuarially sound," the delegates said. "We oppose any programs designed to socialize our health and medical systems."

The farmers said they were opposed to the confusion that results when some states in a time zone operate under daylight saving time and others observe standard time.

There was some opposition to daylight time. But other delegates point out that the farmers took a licking on this issue in Wisconsin two years ago. A motion to substitute "standard" for "uniform" time lost by 2 to 1.

Sputnik III Rocket Nears End of Trail

Adelaide, Australia — An Australian scientist estimated today that Sputnik III's rocket would hit the earth's atmosphere and burn up any time after Dec. 4.

W. E. Gibberd, on the staff of the weapon research center here, said the rocket is rapidly losing altitude and may fall anywhere between 65 degrees north and south latitudes. He said it probably would produce a white trail of ionized gas more than 100 miles long when it hit the atmosphere of the earth.

The rocket went into orbit with its satellite after launching by Russia last May 15. The Smithsonian astrophysical observatory at Cambridge, Mass., estimated Oct. 31 that the rocket was losing altitude at the rate of 10 miles a day and could be expected to plunge in flames in about a month.

Well-Heeled Vagrant Likes City Jail

Cincinnati — The officer said, "I'm going to lock you up on a vagrancy charge so you can have something decent to eat Thanksgiving."

And he took the man he said was scavenging in a garbage can to the police station.

But booking officers got a surprise from the man, James Romanell, 55, and homeless, who was wearing ragged clothes.

A routine search of his pockets turned up a big wad of money — $230. Then a bank book turned up with deposits of $7,900.

Police decided to charge the man with "removing waste from a container." They told him he had enough money to post bond.

But police said he told them, "Why should I pay to get out? This is as good as any place I sleep."

NEW DELTA "900" ROCKWELL

Shall We Fight for Berlin?

Now it's Berlin. The communist rulers do not seem to be taken aback very much when they lose a round; at least it does not deter them from moving quickly to another area where they think they can move the borders of freedom back a notch.
United States foreign policy stopped the Reds in their tracks in Lebanon and Jordan, and in the Formosa strait. Let us say this for the communists — they know better than to belabor a dead horse. Starting a new fuss somewhere else serves two purposes; it keeps the free world busy trying to counter them, and it diverts world attention from the fact that they were defeated at the last place.
The alternatives that face us in Berlin are essentially the same as those we have faced everywhere the enemy has committed or threatened aggression — fight or retreat. The legalisms and oratory surrounding each crisis are, essentially, meaningless. The enemy is testing our mettle, hoping each time that it will find a weakness, either military or psychological, in our armor.
East Germany is, of course, a puppet state which operates on strings from Moscow. The Russians are making a big show of turning over control of Berlin to the East German government as a propaganda move preliminary to bringing pressure on the western allies to get out of the city. But even Khrushchev knows that no one — least of all the East Germans — will be taken in by this elaborate facade.
The last time the communists tried to drive us out of Berlin we surprised them with the airlift; they were not prepared for this tactic and suffered a humiliating defeat. Now they apparently feel they have an answer for it, which can only mean they will try to control the air lanes into Berlin, which in turn means that they will force our planes down, perhaps even shoot them down. The only way we can answer that is by conveying our cargo planes with fighters that are prepared to shoot back. Thus unless the enemy is not prepared for shooting in these air lanes — and why would they start this fight if they were not? — we may soon be seeing dog fights over Germany once again.

Unless, of course, we give in. In every other crisis which the Reds have precipitated, loud voices have been raised in this country and in the other free countries demanding that we retreat in the face of communist bullying, lest itchy trigger fingers start a new world war. Undoubtedly we will hear these voices again; they will ask, shall we send our boys to die for Berlin?
The answer, of course, is that Berlin is no more nor less important than the tiny island of Quemoy, the barren province of Azerbaijan in northern Iran, populous South Korea or South Viet Nam, or the icy wastes of the Arctic. It is simply one more place where the communist dictatorship is trying to expand, as all dictatorships must to live. The Red beast is in a huge cage; it throws itself against the bars first here, then there, becoming more desperate and dangerous as it fails to find a weakness it can exploit. The free world's dilemma is that while we know caging the beast makes him more ferocious, we dare not ever let him out.

A New Design for The Flag

When Alaska becomes a state, the blue field on the American flag may have seven rows of seven stars each.
But there's no law against a fancier design. And if the government wants to follow any of the numerous suggestions so far received from all over the country, it could use a big wheel, a single huge star, an eagle or the letters USA.
Yesterday Alaska elected a governor, senators, a congressman and other state officers to become the forty-ninth state. The Alaskan people in September voted to join the Union.
When entry of New Mexico and Arizona added the forty-seventh and forty-eighth stars in 1912, President Taft decreed an arrangement of six horizontal rows with eight stars each. Previously the stars had been in six rows, the second and fifth containing seven stars while the others had eight. The 48-star flag simply filled in the short rows.
Whatever the pattern, a new star would have to appear for Alaska. A law passed April 4, 1818, says that each additional state requires another star, and that "such addition shall take effect on the Fourth of July next succeeding admission." The Executive Order of 1912 placed the stars for Arizona and New Mexico on separate lines.

A Lot to Learn

Congressman-elect Robert Kastenmeier, Democrat from the Second district, has written a mash note to the editor of Madison's Democratic newspaper thanking him for the "support . . . which so largely made my election to Congress possible." Kastenmeier then goes on to promise that "we northern liberals have now an opportunity to show what we can do in Congress." Has Mr. Kastenmeier read the recent statements by the leader of Wisconsin's "northern liberals" in Washington, Sen. William Proxmire?
Sen. Proxmire has announced his wholehearted support for the program of the party's leader, Sen. Lyndon Johnson, a conservative southern Democrat from that oil state, Texas. Furthermore Sen. Proxmire has expressed doubt about such "liberal" programs as high government spending, wage increases which surmount the workman's productivity, federal aid to schools which might include federal control, farm price supports and subsidies. He has even seemed to doubt some of the provisions of bills which he sponsored last year in the Senate, possibly because no bill ever came to a hearing even in the Democratic-controlled Congress.

Kastenmeier, like many other eager young liberals who have won office, may discover that liberal causes are all very well for candidates (Sen. Proxmire was really a candidate all last year) but they don't prove as popular with elected officials when the responsibility for maintaining a sound economy is faced.

What Others are Saying
Younger Generation Alters Name Calling

The pronunciation of certain midwestern place names is dealt with by Harold B. Allen of the University of Minnesota in the latest issue of Names, the quarterly journal of the American Name Society. This article, based on a survey of the upper midwest, amounts to an obituary for historical local pronunciations such as "Ioway."
While most of the old-timers in Iowa — and the state song — still call it "Ioway," the younger generation and nearly everybody outside of Iowa pronounce it as it is spelled, "Mizzoura" is going thru the same process, altho it is still used by most people in Missouri and in neighboring Iowa and Nebraska. Elsewhere, and even among the upper crust in Missouri, it is pronounced with the final "i" sounded as "ee." The historical pronunciation of Omaha is "Omahaw" but today this is common only in Nebraska and Iowa; elsewhere it is usually "Omaha."

The farther one goes from the place concerned, as might be expected, the more people go by the spelling rather than the historical pronunciation. In Minnesota, the most distant state from Omaha which was surveyed, nobody was found who said "Omahaw."
What is of more concern to us in Chicago is that in Minnesota and North Dakota nearly half of those interviewed mispronounce us "Chicago" and more than a

Political Party Has Right to Hold 'Secret' Planning Meeting

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — There has been a good deal of loose talk in Wisconsin politics in recent years on the supposed issue of "secrecy."
One of the regrettable aspects of political competition is that the issues so often are overdrawn and exaggerated. The argument about "secrecy" in public affairs offers a good contemporary example.

Wyngaard

An understanding of the question requires a clear distinction between governmental business and party business. This department has never understood how anyone can reasonably claim that a political party is obliged to conduct its affairs in the sight of everyone — friend and foe. The other day there were some hasty comments about the allegedly "secret" meeting of Gov. Ellet Gaylord Nelson and some of his friends at a Wisconsin Dells resort. Could any reasonable man object to the idea of a private, friendly discussion by these principals? Could any political leader, Republican or Democrat, possibly manage his career if subjected to the constant scrutiny of his rivals and enemies?
In the nature of things, political parties are entitled to some privacy, even as the football team preparing for the match against its opponent next Saturday.

GOVERNMENT

But the issue is quite different when it comes to governmental affairs.
The people obviously have a right to know what goes on within governmental boards and commissions, and the state legislature, and the other powerful instrumentalities representing a popularly elected government.
The Democrats have said they intend to enact an anti-secrecy code for the state government. The goal will be universally applauded, not because there is any particular aggravation in the state government on that score today, but on principle. It will be a wholesome addition to the public policy declarations of the Wisconsin statutes.

Here and there in the state capitol over the years, as in centers of local government, there have been offenses against the principle of public knowledge of public affairs. Sometimes they resulted from nervous and unsure officials. Sometimes the motives were more reprehensible. Yet it is a matter of some pride for the state that there has been very little of such practice in the last few years.

OVER-REACHING

The Democrats may very well find, in fact now that they are in power and are responsible for getting things done that they over-reached in talking about reform in this field. They are committed, implicitly at least, to abolishing executive sessions of legislative committees. It would be the first such act in a legislative body in this country, in all probability.
Long-time legislative observers are already predicting that on sober second thought the Democratic rulers of the state will change their minds about anti-secrecy, with respect to private deliberations of committees of the legislature, as distinguished from public hearings for the taking of testimony.

The executive session has its uses, although it may be a little difficult for the uninitiated public to appreciate it. Many times it provides a sobriety that would otherwise be difficult to maintain. In the important legislative finance committee, for example, men can deliberate without the pressure groups looking over their shoulders. Many times there are votes cast there on amendments and other matters that would not be possible in a fully publicized meeting.
These men are politicians. A public meeting frequently requires a political posture. A private meeting permits fuller and more candid discussion and more realistic voting, whether Democrats or Republicans are involved.

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Nov. 29, 1879.
Messrs. D. Hammel and Co. have sold their extensive Stave Factory in the City of Seymour to J. W. J. Circe for some $9,000.
This is a very important sale and we are pleased to know that it has fallen into such good hands, as Mr. Circe and his sons are industrious and successful business men who will add materially to the interests of this place by this investment. They will stock it up this winter and push the business.
The Messrs. Hammel retain the large amount of stock on hand to fill existing contracts.

Afternoon Program Seeks to Surprise, Please Its Viewers

New York — Bill Gale and Perry Cross of "County Fair" (NBC-TV) are running one of the most popular television programs on the air. In the course of a few weeks "County Fair" has won the largest viewing audience of any afternoon program on NBC-TV (Mondays through Fridays). With Bert Parks as master of ceremonies against the studio backdrop of a county fair, the program combines audience participation with straight performing — and seeks constantly to surprise its viewers. "County Fair," for example, is a program where you may see such things as a former prizefighter trying to punch his way out of a paper bag. Gale, bandleader for the program, is co-owner of Gale-Gernant productions, Inc., and one of the top advertising jingle writers in the country. Cross, the program's producer, has a host of TV production credits in his youthful past with the Ernie Kovacs show, the Jack Paar show and numerous big special programs.

A Highlight of Rick Priebe's attendance last weekend at the Country Music Festival in Nashville, Tenn., was a meeting with Johnny Cash, right, recording star. Priebe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Priebe, Jr., 916 W. Spring street, made tape recordings of interviews with various stars. They will be aired by WAPL radio between 3 and 4 p.m. Thursday.

New York — Paul O'Keefe, 7, is replacing 11-year-old Eddie Hodges as the freckled kid who pivots the plot of the Meredith Willson's hit "Music Man." Eddie is off on a movie assignment. Young O'Keefe, a Boston native, has worked on leading television shows and last summer performed in a stock production of "Annie Get Your Gun."

Rick Priebe to Share Life's Dream With WAPL Listeners

Rick Priebe, W. Spring street's teenage 1-boy radio station, realized a life's dream last weekend and will share it with WAPL listeners Thursday afternoon. Rick and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Priebe, Jr., 916 W. Spring, were invited guests of Country Music Festival at Nashville, Tenn., over the weekend. While there, Rick tape recorded interviews with Johnny Cash, Marvin Rainwater, Jim Reeves and other country music stars. The recordings will be played by WAPL's Happy Jim Ness between 3 and 4 p.m. Thursday. Can't Forget The festival was the seventh annual one and marked the 33rd anniversary of "The Grand Ole Opry," radio and television show. Rick got an invitation to attend as a result of a tape recording sent Red Foley in May. The recording was of his country music show, some regular and some special "Midwestern Jamboree," a regular feature of his neighborhood station, WAPL. The Wilson Junior High school eighth grader says, "I stars conversed. 'It was as never had so much fun, and though they were your friends for years, something you don't find in the pop field of entertainment,'" he says.

try's youngest, most promising disc jockeys. He attended breakfasts, luncheons and dinners given by various recording companies and met most of the stars in the country music field, including Minnie Pearl, Kitty Wells, Carl Butler and Jimmy Neuman, Joe Slattery, Ferlin Husky, Carl Smith, Ernest Tubbs, Marty Robbins, Elvis Presley's manager, Col. Tom Parker, the Collins singing group, the Everly brothers and Wilbourn brothers. At one of the breakfasts, he was at a table with the Everly brothers, Don and Phil, and their father and chatted with them at length. Rick had his picture taken with Husky, Smith, Tubbs, the Wilbourn brothers, Robbins and Parker, among others. Parker gave him a copy of Presley's press interview as he arrived in Europe for service as an army private. During the weekend, Rick and his parents toured WSM and attended a host of shows, some regular and some special. Rick says he particularly was impressed by the ease with which the country music stars conversed. "It was as never had so much fun, and though they were your friends for years, something you don't find in the pop field of entertainment," he says.

TV Actor's Official Name Now Ty Hardin

Houston, Texas — Orison Whipple Hungerford, Jr., changed his legal name Monday to the one which brought him fame in the Cheyenne TV series: Ty Hardin. Hardin said he preferred his old name because it didn't smack so much of Hollywood but that it was a matter of convenience. "My contract is in the name of Ty Hardin, I pay my rent as Ty Hardin, and my checks are signed Ty Hardin," he said. Dist. Judge Byron Johnson approved and signed the name change order.

The County Agent Says

Why does it pay to raise your own dairy heifers?

When farmers raise their own dairy heifers, they don't run the risk of bringing disease into the herd, the farmer knows the breeding and quality of his own calves better, and it's cheaper to raise good calves than to pay someone else the profit for doing it. Herd replacements should be selected on the basis of production and breeding. A County Co-operative provides the service to farmers of record keeping and production testing.

Are anti-biotics recommended for the laying flock?

Anti-biotics are still a question mark in poultry breeding. University of Wisconsin poultry specialists say it is not a good idea to put anti-biotics in the laying mass just on general principles. This idea has not paid off. If the production drops suddenly or it never goes as high as it should, then anti-biotics could be fed.

How should bulbs and corms be treated before winter storage?

The bulbs should first be carefully sorted. Remove those that are infected then dust the bulbs with a combination fungicide - insecticide before storage. A good dust contains 50 per cent or more of thiram or captan plus 3 to 5 per cent DDT.

How should the flower garden mulch be applied?

2 two to 3-inch layer of straw, marsh hay or evergreen boughs should be applied after the ground freezes. It should not be applied before frost because mice are looking for a home and find the Mulch protects bulbs in the mulch very satisfactory. Early spring as well as tender garden plants. It can be taken off when the plants begin to grow.

Care Urged on Farmers Thinking of Entering Crop Contract Pact

Agreement Gives Companies Control Over Operations of Farm

A University of Illinois professor of agricultural law this week urged farmers to study any farm integration contract carefully before signing it. N. G. P. Krausz reports that farmers who sign such contracts will probably be held to the exact terms of those arrangements.

Krausz recently completed a detailed study of 20 contracts which covered seed corn production, grain for seed, broiler and pullet production, breeder flock and hatching eggs, poultry feed financing and hog - raising. These agreements represent the ed both large nationally known corporations and local feed dealers. They are believed to represent the types of integration contracts the average farmer will be offered.

Contract agreements grant the companies a great deal of control over the farmer's activities, Krausz reports. Most of them provide for inspection and supervision by the company. But none intend to direct a farmer's daily activities. Instead they provide a general plan to follow. While some agreements are more detailed than others in explaining the plan and setting forth the farmer's duties, none seems to put him in the position of being merely a hired laborer.

Different Pay Plan

Payments to farmers are not set up like payments to an employee. Instead they are based on the amount of production. The contracts therefore place the farmer in the position of an independent contractor or, in a few cases, are generally based on fair market value at the time of the sale. While this arrangement does not give the farmer the guaranteed market he might desire, it does do away with a possible area of controversy.

Few contract agreements contain any provisions relating to the landlord's rights. Where the agreements carry such provisions, they state that the landlord agrees to the contract as signed by his tenant.

The contracts are usually written on forms prepared by the companies. In general the companies have tried to get for themselves the most benefits while incurring the least liability. But this problem is not unique in agricultural contracts, Krausz concludes.

Prices paid in the contracts not unique in agricultural contracts, Krausz concludes.

UW Offers Tips On Mulching

Madison — We've had an unusually warm fall. But don't let the weather talk you out of mulching tender garden plants and that goes for spring bulbs. Newly planted bulbs should be protected from the extreme colds that will surely come.

Louis Berninger, University of Wisconsin floriculturist, recommends a two to four inch layer of straw, marsh hay, or evergreen boughs applied after the ground freezes. Not before, because the mice are looking for just such a home up until the ground freezes.

The mulch also protects the bulbs in the early spring. When temperatures rise and fall below freezing from day to night, the mulch will even out those extremes and help warm the soil gradually.

The mulch can be taken off the garden when the plants begin to grow.

Show Farmers Risk Less Heart Disease

Government Study
Made in Rural
North Dakota

BY FRANK CAREY
St. Louis — (AP) — Farmers appear to have much less risk of developing severe forms of coronary heart disease than non-farmers as a group, a government report says.

A team of U. S. Public Health service researchers said this was a preliminary finding of a survey of this disease in six counties of north-eastern North Dakota.

The team, headed by Dr. William Zukel of the National Heart Institute, told the 86th annual meeting of the American Public Health association this story:

Cite Statistics
Among 20,000 males 35 years of age and over in the area, including about 10,520 farmers and 9,310 men in other occupations, there were 229 reported cases of coronary heart disease during the year of the study.

Of the 228 cases, 101 occurred among farmers, 127 in males of other occupations.

Reported incidence of milder cases of the disease—not much different for farmers compared with non-farmers.

Severe Cases
However, occurrence of the more severe cases—such as heart attacks and death—was twice as high among the other occupational groups.

The reason?
The doctors said only that "the reason for this difference deserves more intensive study."

"No appreciable difference in incidence . . . was present among farmers who smoked and farmers who did not smoke."

The doctors added:
"If cigarette smoking is a factor in coronary heart disease, possibly the lack of association among farmers was due to the fact that the farmers who smoked cigarettes smoked less than other occupational groups."

Fall Soil Samples Aid Application of Lime

BY JOHN E. POWERS
Outagamie County Agent

Fall soil sampling enables farmers to make winter lime application and allows plenty of time to analyze and plan for the 1959 crop year.

Fertilizer supplies are more plentiful in the fall and farmers can usually get the analysis they would like. Sampling is just as effective in the fall and even winter as any other time of the year.

Soil samples can be brought to the county agents' office. They will then be sent to the University of Wisconsin soils laboratory for testing and a letter of fertilizer recommendations for the various crops will be sent to the farmer along with the results of the test. The only charge for this service is for mailing. The test is only as accurate as the sample. The soil sample should be representative of the general soil conditions in the field. If the field is quite level and the soil uniform in color and productivity, one composite sample for every five acres is enough. A composite sample should consist of small portions of soil taken from five scattered places in the 5-acre area.

Area to Avoid
Avoid sampling such areas as dead furrows, under animal droppings, where corn or grain shocks have stood, near fences or roads, or in rows where fertilizer has been banded. Do not sample an area of the field that varies with respect to color, fertility, slope, or texture.

A sampling tube, soil auger, spade, or trowel may be used to take soil samples. The samples should be taken to the depth of plowing. If a spade or trowel is used, dig a spadeful of soil to plow depth and throw it aside.

Then, remove a slice of soil approximately one-half inch in thickness from the side of the hole, keep it on the spade. Cut a ribbon approximately one-half inch wide through the center of the slice from top to bottom. Place this core of soil in a clean paper bag. Add the samples from the other four areas of the 5-acre field and bring it in for testing. Approximately one cupful of soil is needed for the test.

Make Map
Be sure to make a map or diagram of the area sampled so fertilizer application will be made on the proper field.

The soil will be tested for lime content, available phosphorus and potassium. Nitrogen, boron and manganese tests can also be obtained for an additional charge.

The important point is to take a good sample and to apply the recommended kinds and amounts of fertilizer for the various crops. If a record is kept of the fertilizer used and the crop yields, it won't be necessary to sample the soil more than once every five or six years.

Farmers Oversubscribe For Soil Bank Program

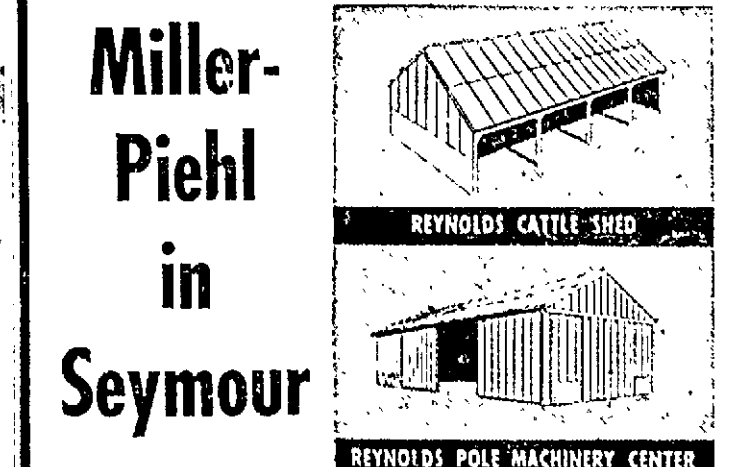

Washington — (AP) — Farmers have oversubscribed the 1959 soil bank land retirement program.

The Agriculture Department reported that 232,000 farmers offered under a $418 million would be needed, cent sign-up campaign to rent more than 20 million acres of cropland to the government for periods up to 10 years. Such land is held out of production under a program designed to curb surpluses.

(In Outagamie county 167 farmers signed up for the program. They represent about 13,000 acres in reserve. The county has a $201,200 allocation for 1959.)

But the $285 million Congress made available for the 1959 program is insufficient to cover all the land offered, the department said. A total of $418 million would be needed. As a consequence, a priority system will have to be used. Farmers retired 10 million acres under the program in 1957 through 1958.

North Dakota farmers led with offers to retire 1,927,000 acres next year. Those in Texas were second with 1,626,000. South Dakota third with 1,316,000. Missouri fourth with 1,204,000 and Oklahoma fifth with 1,036,000 acres.

Agriculture Agency Predicts Decrease in 1959 Farm Income Total

Prices Expected to Decline After Small Increase in 1958

BY OVID A. MARTIN
Washington — The Agriculture department's crystal ball gazers came up today with these farm forecasts for 1959:
Net farm income — amount left after expenses — will dip 5 to 10 per cent to partly offset this year's indicated 20 per cent increase.
Led by hogs, farm prices are expected to decline after staging a 6 per cent increase this year.
Crop production is expected to be as large as this year's record even if weather is less favorable. With dropping of major part of soil bank payment program, cropland will be 5 per cent larger.

Livestock production will be larger, because of upturn in hogs, broilers and cattle.
Farm production costs — which increased about 5 per cent this year — are expected to climb even higher, largely due to higher prices for industrial products, taxes and interest charges.
Farm exports expected to continue large, but below recent levels.
Increased consumer income and a stronger domestic demand for food and most other farm products are expected.

These predictions were given by economists of the department's marketing service in a 1959 outlook report.
Soil Bank
Contributing the expectation of a lower farm income is the fact that a $700 million soil bank land retirement program expires this year.
Under this program, the department made payments to farmers who underplanted allotments for cotton, wheat, corn, rice, and tobacco.
The report also predicted that surpluses of wheat and livestock feed grains will become burdensome next year.

Cheesemaker Art Simon, Route 4, Appleton, checks some examples of his finished product. There were 20 cheesemakers in Outagamie county in 1957, compared to 40 in 1948 and 73 in 1928.

Art Simon Rural Cheesemaker One of Vanishing Breed

BY DAVID APKER
Post-Crescent Farm Editor
The neighborhood cheese factory — a once — familiar landmark on Wisconsin's rural scene — is disappearing.
Figures reported by the Wisconsin department of agriculture were 2,400 factories in the state in 1928, 73 in Outagamie county. By 1948 the total had dropped to 1,353, 40 in the county. The department reports the 1957 total at 714, 20 in the county.
Figures don't tell the whole story, however.
Good Example
If Art Simon, a cheesemaker, is about two miles north of Little Chute, is a good example, small operators still in business are optimistic about the future. Simon has added to his factory space recently and gives every indication of staying in business for a long time to come.
Cheesemaking is an art to Simon, and as a true artist, he is dedicated to keeping his craft alive.
Competition with fluid milk producers has been one of the major factors in reducing the ranks of the small cheesemaking operations, Simon says. Grade A milk is purchased by the milk firms at a good competitive price, often better than what the cheesemaker can offer. He's got to make do with what he can get. In many cases, it hasn't been enough.
The cheesemaking process itself requires a good combination of brawn and brains. Handling milk cans and lugging man-size hunks of cheese is no work for a weakling. Technical know-how in producing top-quality cheese comes from long hours of working with the stuff.
Up Early
Simon's two drivers are up bright and early collecting the milk from 36 farmers in the area who furnish the plant with its raw material. During peak months of May and June they bring in about 22,000 church at 7:45 p.m. today.

4-H Girls
Win Trip
Madison — The University of Wisconsin college of agriculture announced today the names of nine Wisconsin 4-H club girls who have been named winners of trips to the National 4-H Club congress in Chicago Nov. 30.
All were cited for work in various projects. They included: Caryl Wittmann, route 4, Appleton, and Janice Schnabl, Black Creek.
The milk is dumped in two huge vats — 12,000 and 10,000-pound capacity. Milk from the previous day, is added to start the new milk on the road to cheese. Rennet, a fluid made from a calf's stomach, is put in to help the milk coagulate.
Color is put in the vat during the first stage. Simon says it's an open question whether or not color makes the cheese taste any different, but many people think it does, so he adds color, if so desired.
Test for Acid
While the milk is cooking in the vat, the cheesemakers take periodic acidity tests. Acid content is one of the prime factors in determining the cheese's taste.
Once the raw material reaches the desired acid content, it is cut into quarter-inch curds. Curds are separated from the whey and pushed up to one end of the vat. The whey is drained off.
By now the cheese has matured and the cheesemakers cut it into slabs. The slabs are turned every few minutes to help the whey separation process.
The cheese is checked for dry acid and milled into small pieces, Simon explains. It's washed, salted and pushed to one side of the vat to let the salt dissolve.
In the final steps the cheese is hooped and put in presses. Simon sizes the newly-made cheese into cheddar flat and square pieces.
Simon puts it into the cooler to age and await shipment to his buyer — a Cleveland firm.
Cheesemaking is a 7-day-a-week proposition, Simon notes.
"It's not like most businesses," he remarks.
"We can't turn the cow off."

Vivid, Elegant Costumes Shown For Winter Fun on Ski Slopes

BY CAROL RICHARDSON
Post-Crescent Society Editor

Skiers and potential members of the winter sports clan saw a preview of the season's smartest ski clothes modeled by members of the Fox Valley Ski club Tuesday evening at the Ambrosia room of the Elm Tree Bakery.

The parkas, ski pants, boots, sweaters and accessories were furnished by a local sports shop, but moderator, Miss Janis Rowan, Appleton, appeared in her own outfit — black stretch ski pants and a red velvet pullover parka banded with black cuffs.

A warm, but lightweight quilted nylon jacket, filled with dacron, was modeled by John Becker, Menasha, who also showed the standard wool, gabardine ski pants and a handsome, red, hand-knit sweater he bought in Switzerland.

Norwegian Sweaters
Ralph Whitehead and his children, Jean and Bill, all of Appleton, wore identical, hand-crafted sweaters from Norway. A new idea for children's wear was demonstrated by Bill, who showed ski jeans which are fully lined, water repellent and inexpensive.

Complementing a trim pair of black, nylon and wool stretch pants, a reversible parka of black poplin and red, and white horizontal stripes, were shown by Miss Marge Corison, 932 E. College ave., Appleton. An alpine hat and heavy, wool sweater, both with a black and red design, on a white background completed her ensemble.

The newest look in skiing was presented by Fox Valley club president, Frank Grundman, Neenah, who wore black gabardine knickers, a style borrowed from the Europeans, an insulated jacket and a blue and white hand-knit sweater from Germany. Grey socks met his knickers below the knees and are made of a raw yarn so they are water-proof.

A blue, cotton print poplin parka topped with a wide, blue band circling the neck. He demonstrated a compact nylon parka which can be folded and worn at a belt.

A reversible taffeta parka of a bright paisley print and plain black and a blue poplin after-ski coat lined in a vivid corn-stitch cardigan sweater with large silver buttons. The ski parkas with a bright design which reverses to black are good buys for the mid-western skier who often uses

Fee Comes As Surprise To Fill-in

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I belong to a bridge club that meets once a month. At our last party, at which I was the hostess, one of the couples was unable to come, and, not being told of this until the last minute, I had to find another couple to take their places on very short notice. Naturally I considered it a great kindness to me that these extras agreed to come. It is a custom of the club for each couple to contribute one dollar at each party, the total of which is divided and given as first and second prizes. The night of the party, one of the men went around collecting money from each couple, also collecting a dollar from the husband of the substituting couple. He looked rather surprised at this but gave the dollar willingly. I have been wondering ever since whether my husband, as host, should have paid the dollar for them as they were doing us a favor by filling in. Will you please give me your opinion so that I will know what to do should this happen again?

Answer: If your husband had paid the dollar for them it would have been too much like hiring them to play. When you invited them to fill in, you should have explained the contribution each couple makes just as you would have said what stakes you play for if you did not have your special arrangement for prizes.

Wedding Problem

Dear Mrs. Post: I am planning to be married shortly. My parents are divorced and my father has remarried. I am going to ask my father to give me away. I would like to know if it is necessary to invite his wife to the wedding. I would rather not as I know her presence at the wedding will cause my mother distress.

Answer: Your father's present wife should be invited to the church and given a seat in the third or fourth pew on your side. A place beside her is reserved for your father, to which he goes after giving you away. He and his wife leave the church with the guests and neither of them go to the reception.

Name Appleton Coeds to Campus Committees

Miss Mary Ellen Callahan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arlo F. Callahan, 733 W. Third street, and Miss Mary Ann Fischer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee R. Fischer, 603 S. State street, have been appointed to serve on the arrangements committee for an informal dance at Edgewood college of the Sacred Heart, Madison.

Miss Callahan is vice president of the freshman class. She was selected to appear on the monthly television program sponsored by the college last Saturday.

Miss Fischer is freshman representative in the new residence hall.

Miss Martha West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. West, Kaukauna, is co-chairman of the invitations committee for the Friday evening informal Luncheons were also given for Miss McCorison by Mrs. William E. Buchanan, Lake Road, Menasha, and by Mrs. George J. Maye, 1419 S. Outagamie street, at their respective residences.

Casserole dishes, taste-tempters for cold-weather dining, are being studied this month by Outagamie County Homemakers clubs. Appleton center leaders did on-the-spot practice of 1-dish meals at a demonstration meeting at the Wisconsin Michigan Power company kitchen. Mrs. Arthur Schmalig, 1831 N. Erb street, top photo, carefully removes a casserole from the oven. Below, Mrs. Jerome Kavaney, 1527 N. Graceland avenue, places a baked dish on the dinner table. They are members of Center Circle and Gracettes clubs, respectively. Among recipes tried, left photo, were tomato cheese macaroni, upside down chili pie and pantry-shelf special, top to bottom.

One-Dish Meals

Casseroles Stretch Food Dollar, Provide Much Tasty Dining

Casserole meals not only are good to eat but also kind to the pocketbook. That is a truth long known by home cooks. Too often, however, these sturdy dollar-stretching dishes are treated like leftovers.

This month, Outagamie County homemakers have been discovering that carefully prepared casseroles are taste-tempting delights. Do's and don'ts have been presented at center meetings by Miss Nyla E. Bock, county home agent.

The home agent points out that 1-dish meals are protein extenders. Nutritive value can be increased by cutting down on starchy "fillers" and substituting milk, cheese, eggs and vegetables.

Topping Gives Flair
Unusual toppings will give ordinary recipes flair. Miss Bock suggests using crackers, corn flakes, corn or potato chips in designs or as crumbs. Biscuits, flaky pastry and toast can be cut in circles, triangles or pin wheels, while the same can be done with mashed or sliced, cooked potatoes. Another idea is to lay sliced frankfurters or bologna in spoke formation.

While basic proportions for casserole planning will depend on the appetites of family members, a rule of thumb measure can be used. Plan on 1 to one cup per serving, with one-third to one-half as much protein as starch and vegetables. Combine protein, starch and vegetable with one-half as much well-seasoned sauce as the total of other ingredient. Use topping of own choice.

Soups for Sauces
Miss Bock observes that the sauce used helps carry the seasonings and gives moistness and succulence to the dish. The topping adds the

East South West North
1 D 1 H Pass 2 H
2 S 3 H Pass Pass
4 D 4 H Pass Pass
D'ble Red'ble (end)

West opened the diamond three (the preferred lead when partner has bid the suit) and East won with the ace. South ruffed East's diamond continuation and led a low trump to dummy. When East showed out, declarer led a low club from the board; East played the six, and South won with the king.

Now declarer took time out to consider his next move, and he came up with the key play: a low spade from his hand. West put up the jack, so as to lead a trump, but this did not disturb the declarer. He won in dummy and led another club. East went in with the ace and made a return that was as good as any, the club jack. Declarer's queen won, and now a straight cross-ruff was sure to produce the rest of the tricks. After cashing the ace of spades, South could ruff two spades in dummy and could also ruff a diamond and a club in his own hand, with high trumps.

South avoided a persuasive trap in this deal. Observe what could have happened if he had laid down the spade ace and then given up a spade trick. East could win and return a third round of spades, forcing dummy to ruff; and then when East got in with the club ace, a fourth round of spades would wreck the contract. West would lose no time in getting rid of his third club on this fourth round of spades, and declarer would consequently find it impossible to cash in the second club trick he needed for the contract.

Catholics Make 10th Drive for Used Clothing

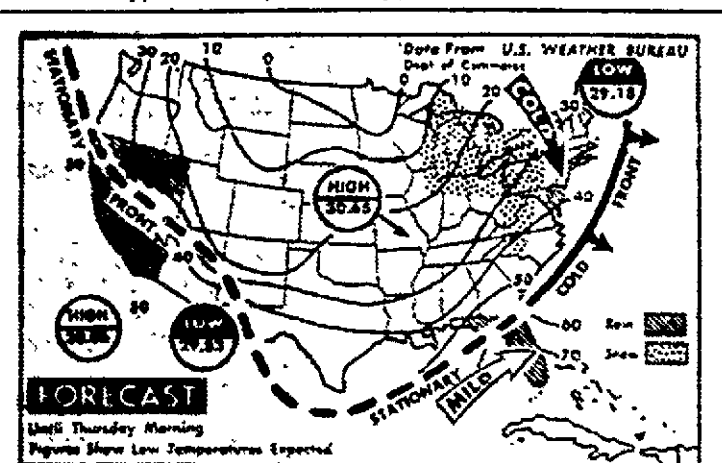

The tenth annual nationwide collection of wearable used clothing, blankets and shoes currently is underway in more than 16,000 American Catholic parishes, including about 200 in the diocese of Green Bay.

Clothing and other items will be collected through Saturday in "Operation Clothes Closet." Distribution of the items is to all needy—regardless of race, color or creed. Processing, shipping and distribution of items collected is handled by Catholic Relief Services. In the last nine years, Catholics in the U. S. have provided about 90 million pounds of usable clothing, shoes and blankets. Cash contributions have purchased plane loads of medicines and helped to meet the cost of distributing surplus foods provided by the U. S. government.

Californian Admits Issuing Bogus Check

Kenneth Carney, 39, San Diego, Calif., Tuesday admitted issuing a $39.96 worthless check in July, 1957. He was ordered held for a 2-week pre-sentence investigation after an appearance before Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmiede. Police indicated Carney also issued two other checks to the Conway hotel, one to a supper club and one to a golf club. He was returned to Appleton from Fargo, N. D., by the Sheriff's department.

Weather Gets Too Chilly For Comfort

The Fox Cities had the coldest weather of the season today. Piercing winds made matters worse.

Appleton temperatures for the 24-hour period ending at 9 o'clock, high, 39, low, 16. Temperature at 11 o'clock, 17. Precipitation was .15 inches. Winds reached 22 miles per hour.

An overnight low of 9 degrees was reported at Superior-Duluth.

Snow was reported along the shores of Lake Michigan and the eastern side of Lake Winnebago.

Kenosha had a Tuesday high of 44. National maximum was 87 at Tampa, Fla. The lowest overnight reading of 20 below was taken at Cut Bank, Mont.

The cold wave extended from northwestern Canada and the Dakotas southward as far as Texas. Heaviest snow fell in Minnesota, Indiana and Michigan.

Headway Slight in Solving Sanitary Trunk Financing

City Officials Agree Informally to Make Some Charge; Await Data

City officials — including 16 aldermen — made slight headway toward solution of sanitary sewer trunk financing problems Tuesday during an informal meeting.

They recommended to the board of public works that a charge be made against benefiting property owners for trunk construction when local sewers, with laterals to the property line are installed.

What Basis, How Much

The basis for the charge and how much it should be were left undetermined until data is compiled and state laws are checked.

Only one official said he favors continuing payment of all trunk costs through the annual city property tax levy.

He said it will be impossible for the board of public

10 Hunters Charged With Game Offenses

Seven in Court For Having Uncased, Loaded Guns

Ten hunters were haled into municipal court on various game law violation charges Tuesday. Seven were charged with having uncased or loaded guns in their cars.

The Schinke family, of route 1, Shiocton, had three members in court. Mrs. Leona Schinke, 18, Carl Schinke, 22, and William Schinke, 65, were fined $15 each. Mrs. Schinke and William were charged with having uncased guns in a car, Carl with having a loaded gun in a car. All were arrested Sunday in the town of Maine.

Mrs. Schinke told Judge Oscar J. Schmiede she didn't get her deer.

Other Fines

Fined $15 each for having loaded guns in their cars were K. R. King, 34, 523 Pearl street, Seymour; Vernon Garvey, 27, route 1, Hortonville, and Vernon Ehlik, 20, 208 Tyler street, Neenah. Ernest Mantoufel, 32, route 2, Appleton, was fined $15 for having an uncased gun in his car.

Donald Drapthal, 30, 1725 W. Hawes avenue, was fined $50 and Bernard Johnson, 41, 1181 N. Appleton street, was fined $20, both for hunting within 200 feet of a lettered highway.

Roland Geurts, 27, 1412 Main avenue, Kaukauna, denied a charge of possessing improperly tagged venison and posted $53.95 bond for trial Dec. 31.

Geurts was arrested Nov. 19 in the town of Bovina after a game warden found him with a deer on which a tag was not locked.

Question King Water Supply

Madison — The state home for old soldiers and their dependents at King may be required to arrange a new water supply soon, its officers testified at appropriation hearings here Tuesday.

G. H. Stordock, commandant, and Leo Jackson, adjutant of the GAR home for veterans which now has a population of about 470, said the state board of health has filed skeptical reports about the use of water from near-by Rainbow lake because of the possibility of contamination at some periods of the lake.

Stordock explained that there are 222 employees on the payroll now and that the figure is high because of the number of aged and bed-ridden persons who require special care, including feeding in bed in the institution hospital.

The total budget request of the institution for two years was put at $2,079,000, an increase of about $75,000 over the current level of operations.

Churches to Observe Day of Thanksgiving

Special Worship Services Set
For This Evening, Thursday Morning

Neenah — Thanksgiving day will be marked by special services in Twin City Protestant churches this evening and Thursday morning. Special thankofferings and donations of groceries for needy families will be received at some of the services.

First Evangelical United Brethren church will have its thankoffering ritual and offerings by the Women's Society of World Service at its service at 7:30 tonight. Dr. William C. F. Hayes will speak on "The Butler's Delay." Whiting Memorial Baptist church will have a Thanksgiving service at 8 p.m. tonight. Calvary Baptist church will have its special Thanksgiving praise service at 7:30 tonight with special music being featured.

Choirs to Sing
The three choirs of St. Paul's Lutheran church will join in the Thanksgiving worship service of the church at 7:30 tonight.

Several churches will have services both this evening and Thursday morning. Martin Luther Evangelical Lutheran will have communion at both its 7:30 service tonight and its 9 a.m. service Thursday. Grace Evangelical Lutheran will have communion at its Thanksgiving service at 7:30 tonight.

It also will have a service at 9 a.m. Thursday. Trinity Lutheran church of Menasha will have Thanksgiving services at 7:30 tonight and 9 a.m. Thursday also.

Services at Trinity Lutheran church of Neenah will be at 7:30 tonight and 8:15 a.m. Thursday.

The sermon of the Rev. Charles Luhn at St. Mark's Lutheran church service at 10 a.m. Thursday at the Boys' Brigade building will be on "Thanksgiving as Sacrificial Prayer."

"Expressing Our Gratitude" has been chosen as the theme for the day.

Crash Impedes Hy. 41 Traffic Three Hours

Two Trucks Collide
West of Oshkosh;
Larsen Youth Hurt

Oshkosh — Highway 41 traffic west of here was impeded for three hours while wrecking crews worked to clear up a collision of two trucks at 12:41 p.m. Tuesday.

Drivers of the trucks were Russell A. Gromsch, 18, Weyauwega, driving a 2-ton truck, and Henry C. Krueger, 33, route 1, Denmark, driving a semi-trailer.

Gromsch said he was going north the third of three trucks when the lead truck turned right into a filling station. The truck driver ahead and Gromsch applied their brakes but Gromsch went into a spin, colliding with the Krueger truck which was headed south.

The entire front of Krueger's tractor was damaged and the rear box of the Gromsch truck shifted. Krueger complained of a left knee injury and was advised to see a physician. The semi-trailer went off the road into the soft dirt and mud being worked on for the 4-laning of Highway 41 in that area.

Traffic was impeded until 3:30 p.m. Sheriff's police directed traffic around the scene.

Drying System Being Used at Sewage Plant

Sludge Being Burned Along With Rubbish,
Garbage; Temperature Improvement Noted

Menasha — A big improvement in operation of the new addition to the Neenah-Menasha sewage-disposal plant was noted today when a drying system, which dries sewage solids so they can be burned, went into partial operation.

A portion of industrial and domestic sewage wastes is now being dried and fed to a 150 ton incinerator which burns the sludge to ashes.

Arnold Sorensen, sewage plant superintendent, said garbage and rubbish, which serve as fuel to burn the sewage solids, also are burning better and supplying enough temperature to burn the sludge.

Sorensen and Jack Pergentini, an engineer from the Combustion Engineering company of Chicago who has been at the plant since Sept. 14, point out gradual progress is being made in all plant operations.

In a large operation like burning rubbish, garbage and sewage, it takes time to find the troubles and more time to correct them, Sorensen said.

Use Vacuum Filters
Two vacuum filters, used in the sludge drying process, also are in use. One was started in January and the other Tuesday morning.

Sorensen said the fly ash problem is gradually improving. He said ashes still manage to escape through the 9-foot chimney even though they must pass through 20 feet of spraying water to get out.

One furnace is operated 16 hours a day while the other is kept on a standby basis. By operating the furnace longer it is easier to warm up the next day.

Sorensen explained that in the old furnace only sludge was burned. This was quite costly as it took about 12,000 gallons of oil a year to burn the sludge, he stressed.

Rubbish and garbage are burned in the new process and are used instead of oil as fuel to burn the sewage solids. Both Menasha and Neenah save time and money by bringing rubbish and garbage to the plant instead of to faraway dumping grounds as they did in the past.

Board Asks Resignation of Museum Head

No Cause Listed
In Letter; Meeting
Set for Friday

Oshkosh — Resignation of Stuart H. Mong, director of the Oshkosh Public Museum, has been requested in a letter received by Mong Tuesday from Ralph N. Buckstaff, museum board president.

The resignation would take effect Jan. 1. No cause for the resignation request was contained in the letter and City Manager Hans S. Thorpe has asked for a bill of particulars on the resignation request.

A meeting has been set for Friday of the board and Mong. Mong had offered his resignation last July when a disagreement arose between Mong and board members but this was refused after several meetings which were attended by the city manager.

Name Assistant
The board last week named Richard Horton, Oshkosh, as assistant director, effective Jan. 1. Horton has experience as an archaeologist and paleontologist, the study of fossils. He worked at the Milwaukee Public Museum's history department while attending what is now the University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee after his discharge from military service.

He is a member of several archaeological societies and historical groups the Winnebago Rock and Mineral club, the National Society of Paleontology.

If That White Turkey Is looking at Craig Wolff, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellward Wolff, Highway 45, a bit skeptically, it is with good reason. That hatchet behind Craig's back has a sharp edge and Thanksgiving day, the traditional day of giving thanks and feasting, is coming up tomorrow. And just as traditionally, turkey is the main course.

Robert Woods Appointed to Sewage Post

Neenah Man Was Menasha Member
Until He Moved

Neenah — The Neenah-Menasha Sewage commission reached its 5-member quota today when Robert Woods, 1036 Kalfahs street, was appointed to the board as a commissioner-at-large.

Woods resigned from the commission two weeks ago because he was moving from Menasha to Neenah. He had been appointed to the commission by the Menasha council.

Woods takes the place of former commission member John O'Leary, who died recently. The other four members of the commission appointed Woods because of his five years experience on the commission.

Fred Hollenbeck, 315 Cleveland street, was elected by the Menasha council to replace Woods. Other members are J. J. Liebhauser, Menasha and W. H. Clifford, president, and Edward Den Dooven, both from Neenah.

Jaycees Plan 'True Security' Competition

3 High Schools Participate to Choose Winner

Neenah — Replacing the Voice of Democracy contest sponsored annually by the Neenah-Menasha Junior Chamber of Commerce will be a "My True Security" contest. Russell Carpenter has been named chairman.

Seniors in the three local high schools will be eligible for the competition which is sponsored nationally by the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance company, Newark, N. J.

An unusual script writing and delivery contest, "My True Security" allows students to prepare three to five minute scripts on "My True Security — The American Way." They should be concerned with the importance of initiative and self reliance in providing a secure future for and by each individual.

Intra-school eliminations will be held Dec. 2 at Neenah High school and Dec. 3 at St. Mary High school and the deadline for entries is Jan. 12. Each school will have one winner and the three will present their scripts at a community wide elimination and radio program Feb. 8. A local awards banquet for the three winners is scheduled for Feb. 23.

The winner's speech will be tape recorded and sent with the original script to the state contest and the winner of that division will receive a plaque and an all expense trip to the annual national awards program in July in Washington, D. C.

Jaycee members on the contest committee are Ken Anderson, school contact; Dave Martin, school publicity; George Lauterbach, judges; Cliff Lee, radio program and publicity; Paul Gross, awards banquet; and Tom Fitz, awards.

Plans for the 'My True Security' contest, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce nationally are discussed by Cliff Lee, left, publicity chairman, and Russell Carpenter, general chairman, for Twin City participation in the contest. The Neenah-Menasha Jaycees are sponsoring the contest in the three high schools of the Twin Cities.

Girl Mixed Hula With Stitching

BY VIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsfeatures Writer

"We wear grass skirts to Halloween parties and pageants, maybe, but that's about all," giggles Juanita Toomey, 14, of Honolulu.

"Some girls here might imagine we wear them all the time, even to school," laughs the junior high school student in New York as first Hawaiian contestant to make the finals in a national dressmaking contest.

But that doesn't mean Juanita can't dance the hula—she's so good at it, she may make a career teaching it.

"Whenever there is a new song, such as 'Kapaue', one I'm studying now, we go to school to learn the new hand movements that go with the song. I learned the hula at five, but there are always new motions."

Juanita has the long tapering fingers that add to the graceful beauty of a Hawaiian girl's hands, an absolute requisite to hula dancing.

"But if things don't pan out in the hula business, I'd like to be a model," says the brown-eyed, brown-haired daughter of an Irish-Hawaiian father and a Spanish mother.

Hula Dress

Hips are important in hula, but it's the feet that help give a graceful look, she says, illustrating with three simple foot movements — put feet two inches apart, move the right foot slightly, then the left foot toward the right foot. Count to three, your hips swaying gently and s-l-o-w-l-y as you bend your legs gracefully.

Hula is danced at all celebrations in Hawaii, she says, but the hula dress is rather like a long sarong with a train. Teenagers dance it at soirees where roast turkey, baked ham, potato salad and punch make up the fare.

"Our homes are more modern looking than yours, and we have as many conveniences," says Juanita. "But our young people do not have as modern clothes as girls here."

Side Tours

Juanita, who says "I reckon so" like a mid-westerner, is a good pal to her 17-year-old brother, and it pays off in dates.

"But now we're both going steady," she says, explaining that although most Honolulu girls go steady, they do it without their parents consent as it is not approved. "Hawaiians do not marry young. We must get permission to marry before 18. Boys wait until about 22."

Her four days in New York, seeing many side tours, but in her own choices are to see the Statue of Liberty and St. Patrick's cathedral. Then, she and her mother (who accompanied her) will spend a week sight-seeing in Los Angeles before Juanita goes back to school and baby-sitting at 50 cents an hour.

Her mother taught her to sew, then she took the sewing center course, and in her own choices are to see the Statue of Liberty and St. Patrick's cathedral. # Cost of Food Depends on Family Type Oshkosh — Whether you choose to spend time and energy preparing foods at home or spend money to buy ready-to-serve foods may depend on your family type, says Miss Lois Klusmeyer, county home agent.

If both husband and wife work outside the home, the family is likely to spend more for higher priced quick-to-fix meats, baked products and partially prepared fruits and vegetables.

Food costs will add up faster this way because of the amount spent on service. If one uses prepared food, it may only take one to three hours preparation time each day.

The woman who spends five hours a day getting meals can save up to a third on food costs. How much is saved depends on how well the market list is planned to avoid over-buying and waste, taking advantage of sales and buying in large quantities.

Quantity buying is a good idea if you have plenty of storage space. Skills such as taking a cheaper, tough cut of meat and turning it into a tasty dish and baking homemade bread helps the budget too.

Many Twin City Mills to Close For Holiday

Several to Remain In Operation on Thanksgiving Day

Set Deadline For Entries in City Tourney

Annual Neenah Event Jan. 10 to Feb. 8 at Muench's

Neenah — Deadline for entries in the annual Neenah City association handicap championship bowling tournament is midnight Sunday, Dec. 14. Walter A. Kuehl, association secretary, announced today. The tournament will be rolled Jan. 10 through Feb. 8 1959 at the Muench Recreation center.

Team events will be rolled first with shifts scheduled for 2, 4:15 and 6:30 p.m. on Jan. 10 and Jan. 17 while on Jan. 11 and Jan. 18 there will be only 2 and 4:15 p.m. shifts.

Three shifts of doubles and singles, at 12:30, 3:15 and 6 p.m., are scheduled on Jan. 24, Jan. 31, and Feb. 7. Double shifts, at 1 and 3:45 p.m., are listed for Jan. 25, Feb. 1 and Feb. 8.

Handicap Handicap will be based on 190 scratch with two-thirds handicap a 18 games minimum. The highest average will be used if bowlers compete in more than one league. New bowlers must have bowled 18 games up to Dec. 31, otherwise the 190 average applies.

Prize fee will be $1 per man in each event with 100 per cent of entry fee paid in prize money. A new event this year in the prize list will be all-events, which is optional. The bowling fee of $1.80 extra in each event includes bowling and tournament expenses. Prize fees must accompany each entry blank.

Individual trophies will be awarded to the first place winners of the team, doubles, singles and all-events. A sponsor trophy also will be awarded to the team winner. A $5 prize will be awarded for the scratch high single game, series and all-events scores out of association funds.

Champions Winners last year were Uncle August Sausage with 2,925 in the team event, C. du Lac 50-22 in their first Heath - R. Mueller with 1-start last Friday night and bowed to Wisconsin Rapids 49-41 the next evening.

Neenah scored an easy 42-17 win over Ripon in last year's meeting, paced by Gary Elmer's nine points. Pete Miller and Don Althaus, juniors on this year's avette team, each had three tallies.

Likely starters for Coach Charlie Shepard's Rockets are Miller, Althaus and sophomores Bill Fahrenkrug, Paul Gorp, first; Harry Thomack, Felton and Jim Sauby.

Neenah — The Neenah Industrial Basketball league will open its fourth season with three games at the Roosevelt gym tonight. The league has seven entries.

Defending champion Bergstrom Paper plays Company 1 in the 7 o'clock game while Lakeview Converters collide with Main Office at 8 o'clock. Neenah Paper and Headquarters are matched in the 9 o'clock game. Neenah Foundry draws a bye.

Bergstrom's won the championship with 12 straight wins last year but it has lost its high scorer, Ralph Kiewow, who is now in service. Lakeview Converters and Main Office are new entries, replacing Badger-Globe and Lakeview. First round play ends Jan. 21 and the second half begins the next week and closes March 11.

Philadelphia Stops Hawks Loss Is First Since Macauley Became Coach

By The Associated Press

"Easy Ed" Macauley may only have been joking. But he had good reason to be serious today.

The new coach of the St. Louis Hawks, who replaced Andy Phillip last week, spoke at a luncheon in New York Tuesday.

Addressing his remarks to Ned Irish, president of the New York Knickerbockers, Macauley said:

"You hired Fuzzy Levane after he had been dropped by the Hawks. You might have to make room for me. I could be next."

Yelled At Officials

Macauley's comment was an obvious reference to St. Louis owner Ben Kerner, who changes National Basketball association coaches almost as often as Frank Lane switches ballplayers.

Tuesday night, Macauley pleaded with his players, stomped his feet and yelled at the officials. But it was to no avail as the Hawks dropped a 106-105 verdict to the Philadelphia Warriors in the opener of a doubleheader in Madison Square garden.

It was the first loss for the Hawks under Macauley after two victories.

The Cincinnati Royals snapped New York's 8-game winning streak, 115-113, in the Garden nightcap. In the other game on the league slate, the Minneapolis Lakers beat the Detroit Pistons, 98-90.

Bobcats Acquire Vet Defenseman Cliff Butler

Green Bay — Cliff Butler, a bruising defenseman who has helped Hibbing, Minn., win three national championships, has joined Green Bay's Mid-America Hockey league, Bobcats. General Manager James C. Gallagher announced today.

Butler, the second Gopher State star signed within the last two days, has been a key member of the Hibbing Flyers for the last seven years.

A veteran of 16 years on skates although only 28, Butler was a prime mover in Hibbing's drive to national senior tournament championships in 1950, 1952 and 1953.

Though defensemen ordinarily are low scorers, Butler is an exception to the rule. Possessor of a rocket shot, he has been one of the Flyers' leading goal-getters every year.

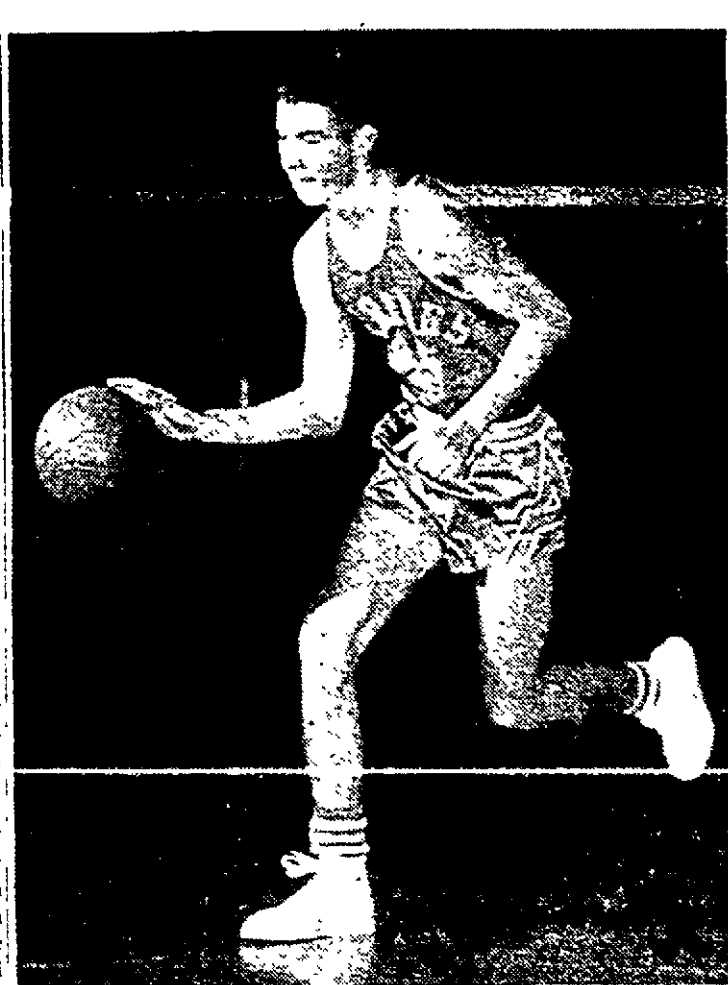

Butler, along with former Minnesota All-American Dick Dougherty, signed Monday, is expected to be in Coach Tony Bukovich's starting lineup when the Bobcats take to the ice in their Mid-America league opener here Saturday night against the Calumet, Mich., Radars.

Yama Bahama Will Battle Stitch Tonight

Louisville, Ky. — A welterweight Rudell Stitch meets Yama Bahama in a nationally televised (ABC) 10-rounder here tonight.

Bahama, from the Bahamas, West Indies, weighed three pounds over the stipulated 150 pounds Tuesday but Manager Bobby Melnick said he would be ready by fight time.

Stitch, of Louisville, has a record of 15 victories in 19 fights. Bahama has had 61 bouts, with 51 wins, 8 losses and two draws.

Senior Forward Ron Reetz is expected to see action for Appleton's Terrors tonight when they meet Menasha in the AHS gym.

Banks' MVP Total Biggest Since '54 Mays Distant 2nd, Aaron 3rd In Voting on NL Selection

Boston — Home run king Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs had plenty of bad news for opposing pitchers today after winning the National league's "Most Valuable Player" award for 1958.

"I've just come upon this knock of hitting home runs," said the young slugger, who crashed 47 homers to shatter his major league record for shortstops.

Banks, whose homer output and 129 runs batted in topped both major leagues, was an overwhelming choice for MVP in the vote counting Tuesday by the Baseball Writers' association of America.

Every Ballot

Named on every ballot, he polled 16 of the 24 first-place votes cast by writers in the eight National league cities and piled up 283 points, the highest total since Willie Mays won the MVP in 1954.

Mays, the only other player listed on every ballot, drew three first-place votes and 185 points for his tremendous efforts for the San Francisco Giants last season.

Hank Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves, the 1957 MVP, was third with 166 points, followed by Frank Thomas, Pittsburgh Pirates, with 143, and southpaw Warren Spahn, Braves, with 108.

Banks, 27, said he was surprised by his selection and called the honor "a hard one to get for there certainly are a lot of valuable players around besides me."

A veteran of five full seasons with the Cubs, he said he figures he has "a lot of years ahead of me."

"I think my peak as a player is yet to come," said the 6-foot, 180-pounder.

Banks said he believes Babe Ruth's record of 60 homers in a season will be broken. But, he added, "I don't know if I will be the one to do it, or even come close."

Banks joined Marty Marion, former St. Louis great, as the only shortstop to win the MVP award since the baseball writers took over the voting in 1931. Marion won in the war year of 1944 although he batted only .267, hit six homers and drove in 63 runs.

One of the surprises in the voting was the twelfth-place finish of Stan Musial, the St. Louis Cardinals' 3-time MVP winner who gathered but 39 points.

Holyoke, Mass. — Jimmy Beau, 163, New Canaan, Conn., stopped Willie Gray, 161, Boston, 6.

Navy Game Next

How Lonesome End Gets Signals Is Still Top-Secret Information

BY JACK HAND

West Point, N. Y. — How does Army's lonesome end get the signals? After eight games it still is top-secret information.

One coach thinks it is done by a towel attached to the quarterback. Another suggests baseball-type signs are used. Some insist plays follow a pre-arranged sequence.

Change Signals

With the Navy game coming up Saturday in Philadelphia, you can expect no help from Army Coach Earl "Red" Blaik.

"I read where they say we did it with towels against Villanova," said Blaik. "Well, I'll tell you this much. Whatever we did, we have changed all the signals for the Navy game. If anybody has broken our code, they are a wonder. I sit on the sidelines every game and sometimes I don't get it."

The lonesome end—Bill Carpenter—is about 20 yards outside the nearest lineman, tackle Ed Bagdonas. Army uses an unbalanced line with end Don Usry and guard Bob Novogratz on one side of center Bill Rowe.

On the other side they have guard Chuck Lytle, tackles Maurice Hilliard and Bagdonas and way out here—Carpenter. The lonesome end never goes in the huddle, getting signals by remote control.

Packers to Battle Lions in Nationally-Televised Tilt

Eye 1st TD In Detroit Since '56

BY ART DALEY
Post-Crescent News Service

Detroit — Dig those crazy touchdowns!

The Packers haven't scored a touchdown in bulky Briggs stadium since Tobin Rote engineered a 24 to 20 upset victory over the Lions Thanksgiving day, 1956.

On last year's Turkey day, with Rote in a Lion uniform, the Packers dropped an 18-6 decision. The six came on Fred Cone's two field goals.

Bart Starr, Rote's prize pupil in 1956, was hotter than a $2 pistol a year ago, pitching a muddy ball over buttery turf for 247 yards on 21 completions in 38 passes but the Bears couldn't produce a touchdown.

Starr Likely Starter

The Packers are still having touchdown troubles but they hope to snap out of it in Briggs stadium Thursday — somehow. Starr likely will start in view of Babe Parilli's troubles as a starter in the past three games, but Coach Ray McLean is reserving his decision until tonight or tomorrow.

This will be the Packers' last big chance to take some of the sting out of their unexpectedly dismal season since the contest will be televised coast to coast. Kickoff is set for 11:06, Green Bay time.

The Lions are reportedly hurting. Both, "Hopalong" Cassidy and Gene Gedman, their ace offensive backs, were hampered something fierce with injuries against the Bears. And QB Rote injured his ribs early in the Bear loss (20-7), retiring in favor of Earl Morrall who has shoulder trouble. Rote was hurt when he fell on the ball. He became ill and never returned to the game.

Couldn't Get "Up"

Detroit Coach George Wilson said his team couldn't get "up" for the Bears because the Lions had played three straight tough games. Bear Coach George Halas couldn't agree.

John Henry Johnson, whose 62-yard run was the Lions' only touchdown in last year's turkey battle, was held out of the Bear game "so he'll be ready for Green Bay," said Wilson.

Incidentally, the rest of the Lions' points a year ago came on three field goals by Jim Martin, a safety by Darris McCord when he tackled Parilli in the end zone, and an extra point by Bobby Lane.

Only 16 TDs

Acting like anything but pro clubs, the Packers and Lions have now scored only five touchdowns between them in two games — two in the 1957 Thanksgiving day test and three in the 13-13 tie in Green Bay last Oct. 5.

The Packers just haven't been touchdown-conscious this year, scoring a league-low 16 in nine games—hardly more

Joel "Dave" Hanner, 250-pound tackle, will be a defensive starter for the Green Bay Packers Thursday in the National Football league game at Detroit. Hanner is playing his seventh year of pro ball.

Name Dick Teteak Badgers' Co-MVP Shares Honor With Jon Hobbs; Stalcup, Zeman New Captajns

Madison — Sid Williams, quarterback from Little Rock, Ark., was presented Wisconsin's new football sportsman ship award Tuesday night at the annual U.S. football banquet.

The Ivan B. Williams award, named for Teteak and former coach, is given to the senior who displayed the best sportsmanship during three years on the Badger varsity.

The "most valuable player" award was bestowed on two seniors, fullback Jon Hobbs of Eau Claire and center Dick Teteak of Oshkosh.

Stalcup, Zeman Honored

Two Illinois residents, guard Jerry Stalcup of Rockford and halfback Bob Zeman from Wheaton, were chosen co-captains of the 1959 Wisconsin team.

Twelve seniors received "W" rings. They were Hobbs, Teteak, Williams, George Chryst, Gil Blackmun, Dave Kocourek, Earl Hill, Paul Shwaiko, Jim Fraser, Jerry Igeyo, Melvin Morris and Dick Tilley.

Coach Milt Bruhn announced that major letters were won by 26 players—eight seniors, 13 juniors and five sophomores.

Neenah's Tom Wiesner was among the small soph group that won letters.

Letter winners were:

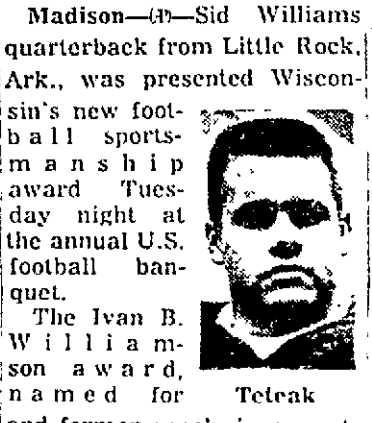

Seniors — Hobbs, Williams, Teteak, Kocourek, Chryst, Hill, Fraser and Shwaiko.

Juniors — Stalcup, Zeman, Dale Blackhart, Billy Hobbs.

Marquette scrimmaged half an hour, emphasizing plays in use deep in enemy territory.

The rest of the practice was spent on defense against players from Arizona State is expected to use Saturday night at Tempe.

Lettermen Vic O'Leary and sophomore Joe Miller took hold, Ron Perkins and Ger turns at the end post vacated by Larry Hubbard, who fractured some ribs in last Saturday's loss to Holy Cross.

MU Polishes Plays to Use Inside 20

Milwaukee — Marquette's football Warriors practiced Tuesday on "in-fighting," polishing plays to be used inside their opponent's 20-yard line.

The Warriors were stopped six times near the goal line in their last three games.

Marquette scrimmaged half an hour, emphasizing plays in use deep in enemy territory.

The rest of the practice was spent on defense against players from Arizona State is expected to use Saturday night at Tempe.

Perry Richards Replaces Doran On Lions' Roster

Detroit — The Detroit Lions Tuesday placed veteran end Jim Doran on the injured reserve list for the remainder of the National Football league season and signed Perry Richards as a replacement.

Doran suffered a leg muscle injury in last Sunday's loss to the Chicago Bears.

Richards, a 6-foot-5 end at the University of Detroit, played last season at Pittsburgh. He was traded to Philadelphia and dropped before the 1958 season started. The Lions picked him up as a free agent.

Fights Last Night

Detroit — Wilf Greaves, 161, Detroit, outpointed Charlie Cotton, 153, Toledo, 10.

Portland, Ore. — Phil May, never been knocked out in six of 153, Portland, outpointed years of pro fighting and Luther Rawlings, 151, St. Louis, don't expect to be stopped in his big chance.

From the remnants of the PCC, which split over recruiting charges, countercharges and varying degrees of disciplinary action taken, has emerged the Big Four, or Big Five, made up of California, UCLA, Southern California, Washington and later possibly Stanford.

The Big Ten hopes that no totally new Rose bowl contract will be needed to continue business with the new group and Tournament of Roses committee. It prefers an updating of the current agreement based on the formality of knocking out any clauses pertaining to the PCC and inserting the new conference.

Any major contract change would mean renegotiation, throwing the matter back to the Big Ten faculty representatives and what might be a hard fight to get a majority vote for continuing the series.

John Sandusky Takes New Post

Calgary — The Calgary Stampede Tuesday night announced the signing of John Sandusky as line coach for the 1959 Western Interprovincial Football union season.

Sandusky, 32, has been line coach at Villanova the last two years. He played six years with the Cleveland Browns and Green Bay Packers of the National Football league.

Pro Bowl Players Voted Pay Raise

Los Angeles — Sixty of the greatest players in the National Football league today were voted a raise in pay for their appearance in the Pro bowl game here Jan. 11.

General Manager Paul Schussler announced that the players on the winning team will get $800 apiece, the loser $700, a hike of $100 from previous years. The players, selected from the Eastern and Western divisions, also get an all-expense stay in Los Angeles for two weeks.

Four NFL Passers Battle for Honors

LeBaron, Wade, Unitas, Brodie Lead in Different Categories

Philadelphia — While Jim Brown's record-breaking rushing performance has held the limelight in the National Football league, four passers have been having a battle for league honors in their specialty.

Eddie LeBaron of the Washington Redskins still has the best average gain per passing attempt, 9.02 yards, according to NFL statistics released today. But for actual yards gained, Bill Wade of the Los Angeles Rams is the leader with 2,214, more than double LeBaron's output.

John Unitas of the Baltimore Colts, who missed two games because of injuries, still has tossed the most touchdown passes, 14, and has had only three of his 167 pass attempts intercepted.

John Brodie of the San Francisco 49ers has the best completion average, 59.2 per cent of his 147 tosses.

17 Touchdowns
The Philadelphia Eagles held Brown, to only 66 yards by rushing last Sunday but it increased his league record for the season to 1,229 yards. His nearest competitor is full back Alan Ameche of Baltimore with 607 yards. Brown's average of 6.2 yards per carry for 199 rushes is topped only by teammate Bob Mitchell with 6.5, but on only 79 attempts.

Brown failed to score and has 17 touchdowns, one short of another league record, for a total of 102 points. Second in the scoring race is Lenny Moore of Baltimore with 72.

Pete Retzlaff of the Eagles has caught the most passes, 43. But Del Shofner, who is second with 40 catches, has gained the most yards, 824.

Ray Berry of Baltimore has caught the most TD passes, 7. Other league leaders are Sam Baker, Washington, punting 45.9 yard average; Jon Arnett, Los Angeles, punt returns 14.1 yard average; Len Lyles, Baltimore, kick-off returns, 40.8 yard average, and Andy Nelson, interceptions, 8 for 199 yards. Jim Patton of the New York Giants also has eight but returned them only 111 yards.

Retains His Optimism

Campanella Says He Has Many Things for Which to be Thankful

BY JOE REICHLER

Glen Cove, N. Y. — Paralyzed Roy Campanella, facing the prospect of spending the remainder of his life in a wheel chair, called himself a lucky man today and said he had many things to be thankful for.

The former star catcher of baseball, who has slipped down from 215 to 135 pounds after his long siege in the hospital as a result of his tragic automobile accident nearly 10 months ago, is back home.

Last Thanksgiving, robust and spry, he was eagerly looking forward to his move to Los Angeles with the Brooklyn Dodgers. Now, he puts in painful hours each day trying to rebuild his muscles in the hope that some day he may be able just to walk again.

Warm Smile

Campy admits that day may never come but he hasn't lost hope and the warm friendly smile that won so many friends for him is still on his thinned-down face. "I keep telling myself how lucky I've been," he said. "I just keep thinking God I'm alive and I had a house and a family to come back to. Look at poor Mel Ott. He was in an automobile crackup too. He's dead. I'm only paralyzed. I said a little prayer for Mel and I sent him a wire, but I guess he never got to read it."

Yes, Campy was home and he was happy. He no longer was burdened by the neck brace he had worn since last January when he underwent an operation on his broken neck. He is still paralyzed from the chest down, however, and he has to be lifted from his bed into the wheel chair. He has to be dressed and undressed. He is constantly attended by a male

Ohio State fullback Bob White finished second with 72 points. Bob Jarus, Purdue fullback, is third with 60. Leaders:

George Wilson Encourages Fans' Comments on Lions

Detroit — A nationwide television audience will get a chance to see the defending world champion Detroit Lions in action Thanksgiving day, and Coach George Wilson is encouraging comment from the fans.

"If any of them see what's wrong with the Lions this year, I hope they'll let me in on it," said the Lions' head coach.

The bottom has dropped out of the Lions this season. After winning the world championship in dramatic, come-from-behind style in last season's stretch drive, the Lions have had just about everything go against them this year.

"I've always said you have to be real lucky in this league," Wilson added. "This season just proves I'm right. Last year, we were getting all the breaks, and we took advantage of them and won the close ones. This year, the ball has bounced the other way. We can't seem to do anything right—not for very long at a stretch, anyway."

The Lions, 3-5-1 for the season, meet the Green Bay Packers Thursday in the traditional Thanksgiving day clash at Briggs stadium.

Pitt '11' Will Bid for Bowl Spot Thursday

Meets Penn State; Texas Aggies To Duel Texas

By The Associated Press

College football goes into its last big weekend of the season Thursday with a handful of traditional Thanksgiving enough.

day games that could provide a bowl boost for Pitt, Cincinnati, Miami Ohio, Tulsa and Virginia Military.

Only the Rose (Iowa vs. California) and Orange (Oklahoma vs. Syracuse) are set among the five major bowls. The Sugar has Louisiana State in hand and the Cotton has Texas Christian lined up, but each needs another team. The Gator bowl needs a pair.

Needs 2 Teams
The Blue Grass bowl, a newcomer, also needs two teams, while the Tangerine Bowl needs an opponent for Buffalo, which accepted a berth Tuesday.

Pitt, a prospect for both the Blue Grass and the Gator, goes against Penn State Thursday in the regular-season windup for both. Each has a 5-3-1 record.

Cincinnati and Miami (Ohio) both are under bowl consideration — Cincinnati by the Blue Grass and Miami by the Tangerine. They play Thursday at Cincinnati.

In other games Thursday, it's the Texas A&M at Texas, Cornell at Penn, Wake Forest at South Carolina and Colgate at Brown. The Texas A & M game will be televised nationally.

Saturday's big game is the Army-Navy brawl at Philadelphia. Notre Dame is at Southern Cal for their annual battle, and Oklahoma makes its final pre-Orange bowl appearance in a game with state rival Oklahoma State.

Air Force plays Colorado, and the Falcons will announce their decision on the Cotton bowl afterward. Alabama, a top choice by the Blue Grass committee, goes against unbeaten but bowl-banned Auburn. Georgia Tech shoots the works against Georgia. Clemson tries to nail the Sugar Bowl bid against Furman. Florida tries for the Blue Grass against Miami (Fla.), and SMU makes its pitch for an upset against TCU and a trip to either the Sugar or Gator Bowl.

than a touchdown a game. Detroit, by comparison, has scored 26, Baltimore 42. The Packers have scored only three touchdowns in their last four games — none against Baltimore and one each against the Bears, Rams and 49ers. In their only victory, over Philadelphia, the Packers scored five touchdowns.

The Packer-Lion turkey day game traditionally is a high scoring affair, although scoring has dwindled some in the last three games. The two clubs scored 87 points when Detroit won the "opener" against Green Bay in 1951. Next year it was 48-24, Detroit, and the following year 34-15, Detroit.

High Regard

Detroit probably is wondering about the Bays' quarterback starter, too. Regardless, the Lions have a high regard for the Packers who usually give them a stiff struggle.

The Lion defense, headed by the terrific Joe Schmidt, likely will key in on Paul Hornung, the Packers' full-back and top ball-carrier who is a pro "stranger" here. Paul missed last year's Thanksgiving game with a sprained ankle. Hornung and Don McHenry — the former Lion — are the keys to the Packers' aerial success. When they gain, the passing seems to work.

Other than Bill Forester who has an injured ankle, the Packers are in reasonably good physical condition. Marv Matuszak or Dan Currie will work in behind Forester at an outside line backer spot — if necessary.

Backfield Starters

The Lion backfield starters probably will be Rote, Gedman (left half), Cassidy (flanker) and Johnson (full-back).

A crowd of more than 52,000 is expected despite the fact that both clubs are out of the running. The Bears eliminated the Lions last Sunday before 55,000. This will be the fifth straight Thanksgiving day game that has drawn over 50,000.

The television audience is estimated at more than 50 million.

CD Expects Deer Kill to Pass 80,000

Madison — (U) — The Wisconsin Conservation department said Tuesday that incomplete reports showed that at least 77,300 deer had been killed in the regular hunting season which ended Sunday.

The department added that it had not received full reports from the central and northeastern areas but that it was sure that when they came in the total would be well over 80,000. Last year 68,000 deer were killed.

Hunting pressure is light, the department said, in the 12 northern counties where hunting will continue through next Sunday. There is very little snow in the area but some is expected tonight.

Boston — (U) — The Boston Celtics threatened today to refuse to book any more National Basketball association games in Charlotte, N.C., because of segregation practices in the Southern city.

Great Runner Moore Becomes One of NFL's Best Receivers

Baltimore — (U) — Lenny Moore is the lonesome halfback for the Baltimore Colts. Opponents trying to keep company with him have been finding it a trifle fast.

The gangling halfback has become one of the most feared pass receivers in his third season in the National Football league.

He's caught 37 for 809 yards and six touchdowns. Only Del Shofner of Los Angeles has gained more—15 yards—and his own teammate Ray Berry's seven touchdowns are highest in the league.

The Rams last Sunday tried putting two men on Moore whose favorite starting point is away out on the right flank. Moore got away from his two defenders seven times and for one touchdown. He gained a

Claims NBA Would Be Foolish to Buck West Coast Football

Boston — (U) — Ned Irish, executive vice president of the New York Knickerbockers, says the National Basketball association would be foolhardy to buck college and pro football on the West coast.

Irish said at a basketball luncheon Monday that football on the West coast draws as many as 100,000 to a single game "and nothing else sports-wise can exist."

"Their season is very long, too," he said. "When's that pro bowl game, Jan. 12? Half of our season is gone."

ference play are Lamers (225), Jansen (207), Hearden (180) and Dick Minten, who made 40 as a freshman. Frank carries seven sophomores on his only seniors on the squad. Westphal scored 125 points yearlings were unbeaten last year. A 6-4 sophomore, Tom Rooyakkers, joins the lettermen on the starting five.

Top scoring seniors last year were Hank Peerenboom (142), Warren Polman (73) and Paul Vanevenhoven (27). The Jayvees had a 5-9 record. Kimberly swamped Appleton, 74-44, in its opener.

NEENAH — Kuehl scored 101 points in league play a year ago. Other returnees are Jerry Moder, Jim Hensen and Jerry Hensen. The Jayvees had a 12-2 league record and an overall 18-3. Up from that squad are Jon Halverson, Bob Tolferson, Jack Ankerson and Dick Wilson.

Scoring leaders among the graduates were Dave Thomson (217), Fred Seggeling (194), Gene Gries (105), Ed Meyer (92), Pete Bylow (65) and Marv Carlson (59). The Rockets lost to Fond du Lac but beat Wisconsin Rapids in their first two starts.

SHAWANO — The Indians won the conference title last year but had to settle for third place at the state meet. The previous two years they didn't cop the league bunting but won state honors. Lyons, the lone returning regular from last year's team which had a 13-1 league mark, scored 64 points.

Ren Ketchenago was next in line with 26 while other returnees are Ron Erbrecht, Dick Frechette, Ron Hoppe, Guy Booth and Phil Timm. Gharrity scored 365 and Cantwell 264 last year to rank first and third. Ostepinski added 149 and Timm scored 139. The Jayvees had a 12-2 league mark, losing twice to Neenah.

KAUKAUNA — Kaukauna, lost its top two scorers in Bill Simon (171) and Jim Walsh (158) but returning are Gary Vanevenhoven (122), Leroy Weyenberg (101), Bill Borchardt (81), and Ron Busse (26). Myron Zachowski, a junior, completes the first five.

Coach Hopfensperger has only two seniors on the squad. One is Vanevenhoven. Last year's Jayvees had 4-10. The Ghosts lost close decisions Wausau and Fond du Lac in their first two non-league starts.

MENASHA — Major lettermen included Dave Robinson, Tom Stepanski, Carl "Rocky" Jersild and Hal Jorgenson. Robinson was the top scorer of the group with 64 points. Promising sophomores are Dave Ristau, starting center, Bill Prange and Bill Ritchie. In addition to Nelson, Selbach and Koslowski, Jim Hanson graduated. The Jayvees had an 8-6 record in M-E play last year.

TWO RIVERS — Kozlowski and Knope scored 134 and 126 points respectively in league play last year. Other lettermen are Stu Walesch and Tom Malkowski.

Brault scored 289 points to rank second last year. Other losses were Jerry Messman (92), Leon Gospodarek, (59), Joe Buenow (44) and Jim Beth (27). The Jayvees were third with a 10-4 mark.

Roosevelt's regulars played just about half the game in a 44-22 Fox Valley Freshman Basketball league opening game victory over Kaukauna Tuesday afternoon on the winners' floor.

Center John Wendt whipped in five points in the first quarter as Roosevelt moved away to an 11-3 lead. With reserves seeing a good deal of action in the second period, the hots built up a 25-8 halftime bulge.

Wendt, 6-2, collected seven points in the third stanza as Roosevelt went ahead, 38-16. His 12 points earned game scoring honors. Teammate Dave Emerich, forward, scored 11 and reserve guard Mark Meythaler collected six.

Gerald Spaulding counted eight and Bill Jirikowicz five for the freshman Ghosts.

Kaukauna had a good deal of trouble hitting from the floor and wound up with just eight baskets.

Roosevelt's regulars played just about half the game in a 44-22 Fox Valley Freshman Basketball league opening game victory over Kaukauna Tuesday afternoon on the winners' floor.

Center John Wendt whipped in five points in the first quarter as Roosevelt moved away to an 11-3 lead. With reserves seeing a good deal of action in the second period, the hots built up a 25-8 halftime bulge.

Wendt, 6-2, collected seven points in the third stanza as Roosevelt went ahead, 38-16. His 12 points earned game scoring honors. Teammate Dave Emerich, forward, scored 11 and reserve guard Mark Meythaler collected six.

Gerald Spaulding counted eight and Bill Jirikowicz five for the freshman Ghosts.

Kaukauna had a good deal of trouble hitting from the floor and wound up with just eight baskets.

Duncan Is Unanimous Choice Of Midwest Selection Board

Chicago — (U) — Quarterback Randy Duncan of Iowa's new Big Ten champions and full-back Bob White and end Jim Houston of Ohio State's de-throned titlists topped the Midwest's All-America bidding today.

Duncan was a unanimous choice of the AP's area selection board, while White and Houston, who collaborated to help Ohio State hand Iowa its only defeat of the season, 38-28, were not far behind.

Fine Fullbacks, Ends Actually, this upside-down grid campaign had the screening board scratching its head, so widely distributed was sectional talent. The board had 52 candidates for the AP's first three All-America teams. Duncan had to be a superb performer all the way, leading Iowa to the Big Ten title and Rose Bowl bid, to stave off such other Midwest quarterbacks as Dale Hackbart of Wisconsin, Western conference runnerup, and sterling sophomore Dick Thornton of surprising Northwestern.

At end and fullback, the Midwest was glutted with fine players this fall. White, a demon ball-carrier for the Buckeyes, was hard-pressed at fullback by Purdue's Bob Jarus and Notre Dame's Nick Pietrosante.

Although Houston is rated the finest end in Ohio State history, he was challenged by such talented wingmen as Rich Kreitling, Illinois' stunning pass-graber; Sammy Williams, a magnificent performer for lack-luster Michigan State; and Monty Stiekles, The board had high on its list such inner linemen as tackle Gene Selawski and guard Ron Maltony of Purdue lead the doubles category due; guard Jerry Stalcup and center Dick Teteak of Wisconsin; guard Al Ecuver of Notre Iron Ridge; Don Bilgrien and Gordon Roeseler.

Appleton's Duane Kassube has rolled into the all-events lead with a count of 1,833. Burton ranks third with 1,833. Holding down fourth place in doubles is the Appleton team of Ed Flood and Ed Grassl.

The single's leader is Madison's Joe Amato, with 695. The team event is led by Rusty's Supper club, Oshkosh, with 3,018.

The Blackbirds (13-3) hold a half-game circuit lead. Walter Winter shot a 561 in the Builders loop at Hahn's kiegling for August Winter and Son. Chuck Hoepfner compiled a triplicate of 154s. C. Heinritz of Heinritz Sheet Metal slapped the loftiest game, a 233.

Wunderlich (24-12) holds a 3-line loop lead. Other honor talies in the Bird loop: Joe Gregorius 572; Walt Winter 560. In the Builders league: C. Lella 561; A. Reitzner 225; G. Panke 557.

Fraser beat Bob Howe and Don Candy 6-1, 9-11, 8-6, 6-4 in the semi-final of the men's doubles.

36 Drivers Face Traffic Law Charges

Woman Denies She Failed to Yield Right-of-Way

State, county and city police charged 36 motorists with traffic offenses Tuesday. All appeared in municipal court.

Mrs. Erna G. Kopenhefer, 1801 N. Morrison street, denied failing to yield the right-of-way and posted $53.95 bond for trial March 16. She was arrested by Appleton police after she drove onto E. Wisconsin avenue from N. Morrison street and collided with an oncoming car Sunday.

Dixon J. Skenandore, 18, route 2, West DePere, was jailed when he couldn't pay $50 in fines on three charges—no driver's license, $25 fine; improper muffler, $15 fine; and no registration for his car, $10 fine. The driver's license offense will cost him four points against his driving record.

Eugene A. Hoffman, 29, Black Creek, was fined $15 and charged six points for driving 45 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone.

Three Point Speeders

Charged three points each for speeding were Edward E. Sanders, 18, 210 S. Telulah avenue, $10 fine, and no driver's license, $5 fine and four points; Robert L. Buchman, 16, 814 W. Packard street, license revoked for 30 days, $2.95 court costs, and no points because of his age; Francis Palmbach, 21, 4784 Second street, Menasha, $10 fine; Thomas L. Sell, 21, 225 W. Seymour street, $10 fine.

Peter J. Blahnik, 18, 1500 W. Haskell street, $10 fine; Alton L. Lendved, 46, route 1, Bear Creek, $15; Glyndon J. Finger, 43, route 1, New London, $10 fine; Wesley F. Romanesko, 22, 930 Depot street, Little Chute, $10 fine; William B. Ogden, 51, 121 La Fayette street, Shawano, $10 fine; Lewis E. Wendlandt, 32, Beloit, $15 fine.

Betty Kuettel, route 2, Hortonville, $13.95 forfeited; Charles B. Knaack, 26, 221 Langley Boulevard, Neenah, $10 fine; Joseph P. Joosten, 38, 503 E. Second street, Kimberly, $15 fine; Lloyd A. Collins, 45, Antigo, $13.95 forfeited; and Mrs. Jean J. King, 1124 N. Mason, $18.95 forfeited.

Charged four points for illegal passing were Harold D. Miller, 21, 1245 Lincoln street, Omro, $35 fine; Simon Cherkasky, 44, 408 Brill street, Kaukauna, $25 fine, and Eugene R. Voigt, 31, Milwaukee, $18.95 forfeited.

Arlene W. Dougherty, 29, Amherst Junction, denied the charge and posted $16.55 for trial Dec. 8.

Illegal Mufflers

Charged with having illegal mufflers on their cars were Robert R. Brauer, 17, route 1, Bear Creek, license revoked for 30 days and $3.95 court costs; Richard Lyon, 19, West Allis, $10 fine; and Wayne M. Ritchie, 22, route 2, Hortonville, $10 fine.

Charged three points for ignoring stop signs were Herbert F. Vande Corput, 28, route 1, Seymour, $10 fine; Wayne A. Schmidt, route 3, Appleton, $15 fine, and Roger J. Luos, 17, Oshkosh, license revoked for 30 days, $3.95 court costs and no points because of his age.

Philip Voghts, 30, 1705 Crooks avenue, Kaukauna, denied the charge and posted $28.95 bond for trial Dec. 30.

Fined for permitting unauthorized persons to drive were Ronald J. Fulcer, 19, route 1, Appleton, $5, and Joseph M. Hietpas, 40, 212 E. Coolidge avenue, $15.

Howard Bastedt, 61, Green Second street, Menasha, $10 fine, was fined $25 and charged four points for passing a school bus stopped for children.

Geraldine E. Madden, route 1, Kaukauna, was fined $5 and charged four points for driving without a license. The same charge against George Stevens, 33, Green Bay, was dismissed.

Vernon A. Hecker, 33, Milwaukee, forfeited $28.95 and was charged three points for following too closely in traffic.

W. P. Goodwin, 59, Green Bay, was fined $10 for no registration.

Valley Iron Works, Appleton, received an award banner from the department of defense Tuesday night. The award was given for the firm's personnel policies encouraging reservist employees to fulfill their military obligations. Left to right, during award ceremonies, are W. A. Homes, assistant general manager; Col. Charles Ege, army reserve sectional commander; R. A. Peterson, president and general manager; and Maj. Robert Nehrling, officer in charge of the Appleton armory.

Rotary Club Project

Scholarship, Loan Fund Grows; Aids Many in 34 Years

A scholarship fund begun 34 years ago by the Appleton Rotary club has grown to a healthy $11,821.61 for the Appleton Rotary Foundation, Inc.

Through the years the money has been used to help deserving college students over the hump in their junior and senior years and repayment is not required until the student is employed.

The scholarship and loan fund was begun in 1924 when the club, finding itself with a $109.50 surplus after a district conference, began looking around for a project. The student loan fund was decided upon and, with additional contributions by several members, the project was off to a good start.

Certain regulations are carefully observed in administration of the money—loans are made only to juniors and seniors, since by that time the student has established for himself and indicated he is scholastically, as well as financially, deserving.

Top Limit

A top limit of $400 is put on all loans and, although no interest is charged as long as the student is in school, monthly payments with 4 percent interest begin as soon as the graduate is employed.

Records show that over 200 students, 12 of them girls, have been aided by Rotary loans in the last 34 years.

The fund was incorporated in 1956 as the Appleton Rotary Foundation, Inc., and the first scholarship was presented in the fall of 1957. With the need for scholarships increasing, the club has set a financial objective of $25,000.

Kimberly Man Dies After Heart Attack

Edward Krueger, 73, 145 S. James street, Kimberly, died in Appleton this morning after suffering an apparent heart attack in front of the Kimberly State bank about 10 a. m.

Kimberly police administered oxygen at the scene. He was taken to the hospital by Larry's ambulance.

Funeral arrangements are pending at the Jansen Funeral home, Kimberly.

Survivors include the widow, two daughters, Mrs. Edward H. Miller, Appleton, and Mrs. Edwin Melchert, Kaukauna; one son, Edgar, Brillion; one brother, John, Appleton; one sister, Mrs. Fred Mehrling, Butte, Mont.; and four grandchildren.

Lawrence Wicinski

Lawrence Wicinski, 75, route 1, Appleton, died unexpectedly at 10:05 p. m. Tuesday at his home. He was born July 28, 1883, in Berlin, Germany, and lived in Neenah until moving to his present home a year and a half ago.

Funeral services will be at 2 p. m. Friday at the Brett-Schneider Funeral home, with burial in Riverside cemetery. The Rev. W. H. Gammelin, pastor of Zion Lutheran church, will officiate. Friends may call at the funeral home after 2 p. m. Thursday.

Survivors include his widow, one daughter, Mrs. Claire Peterman, route 1, Appleton; and one grandchild.

Lesinski Funeral

Funeral services for John Lesinski, 65, King, who died Friday in Madison, were held at 9 a. m. Tuesday at St. Patrick Catholic church, Lanark, with military rites performed by the Amherst American Legion post at the graveside in the parish cemetery.

He is survived by his widow; two sons, John and Henry, both of King; two brothers, Peter and Max, both of Neenah; and five sisters, Miss Theresa, St. Paul, Minn.; Mrs. Edwin Hoppe and Mrs. Louis Gloudouski, both of Neenah; and Mrs. John Wicinski and Mrs. Helen Pliska, both of Stevens Point.

Nelson Voices An Interest in Tax System

funds amount to $6,000,000 a year but the state audits such claims while the national government is paying more than actually due, he said.

The number of Wisconsin income tax payers is rising at the rate of about 25,000 a year and there are now about 1,300,000 individuals paying the state graduated income tax.

The department is exploring the possibility of closing the four district income tax offices — including the one at Appleton serving the Fox valley — in favor of the big central office at Madison, but probably won't do so because of the personnel recruiting problem in the capital city.

Tax Impact Study

The department will soon have enough tabulation equipment to furnish some of the information required for the "tax impact" study which Nelson says he wants to make before sending his own tax recommendations to the legislature next year.

When Nelson asked Harder for suggestions on how to improve the state tax system, the commissioner responded eagerly.

He said he has often before asked for stiffer penalties for income tax evasions, including the assessment of the penalty clause of the law for the under reporting of net income. Today's penalty applies only to the under reporting of gross, so that the tax payer by inflating his deductions, can escape paying a fine when he is exposed in an audit.

Corporation Taxes

Harder also complained that some companies consistently overpay their corporation taxes, apparently in order to collect the 5 percent interest which the law provides must be paid by the state on such excess payments.

He also touched upon an old political chestnut, the distribution of utility taxes which has repeatedly been considered by the legislature without result. Harder said the present law is based upon 1917 conditions. Generally, it favors financially those communities which happen to have utility plants within their borders. Other cities have often protested the inequity of the system that the legislature thus far has refused to budge.

Large Containers Make Rubbish Collection Difficult, Greisch Says

Businessmen are making rubbish collection difficult, Deputy City Health Officer Claude N. Greisch said today.

Many are using large barrels with no handles, he said. Rubbish, particularly ashes, must be in metal containers with separate covers and have handles, he said.

Wind, Greisch reported, is causing dust from containers without covers. Complaints have been filed with him, he said.

Former Black Creek Fireman Dies at 78

Frank Satorius, 78, Black Creek, a member of the volunteer fire department for 50 years and a long time produce buyer, died this morning in Appleton after a long illness.

He was born Aug. 30, 1880, in Milwaukee, but was brought to Black Creek as an infant and lived there all his life.

Funeral services will be at 2 p. m. Friday at the Burdick Funeral home, Black Creek, with the Rev. R. E. Ziesemer, pastor of Mt. Olive Lutheran church, Appleton, in charge. Burial will be in the Saxon cemetery, Black Creek. Friends may call at the funeral home after 2 p. m. Thursday.

He is survived by seven daughters, Miss LaRae Satorius, Mrs. Janette Diestler, Mrs. Erval Steffen, Mrs. Beulah Gordon and Mrs. Matt Felton, all of Appleton; Mrs. Richard Fellner, Shiocton, and Mrs. Richard Van Camp, San Diego, Calif.; four sons, Wallace and Marvin, both of Appleton, and Jarvis and Stanley, both of Black Creek, and 20 grandchildren.

Around Home

Miss Betty Kilich, Post-Crescent reporter, was in Milwaukee Monday and Tuesday to cover a meeting of the Wisconsin Welfare council.

She had parked her small, foreign-made car on a hotel parking lot for the session which stretched an hour longer than she expected. She had an appointment for dinner and rushed to the parking lot. The attendant got her car for her.

She drove for several blocks, thinking about being an hour late, when she began to notice the car didn't handle just like her own. Then she discovered it had different upholstery and was a different color.

You guessed it. She had the wrong car and was more late for dinner than she expected.

Navy Office Open On Thursday Nights

The navy recruiting office in the Appleton post office will be open from 7 to 10 p. m. on Thursday nights, Chief Howard Waggoner reports.

The new hours have been set for convenience of former naval personnel who want re-enlistment information, he said.

Minahan on Civil Rights Committee

Editor Named to Advisory Board for Federal Government

Victor I. Minahan, Jr., editor of the Post-Crescent, has been named to the Wisconsin advisory committee for the Commission on Civil Rights.

Other members are Lee T. Crowley, Madison board chairman of the Milwaukee League of Women Voters; and Burno V. Bitker and George W. Hamilton, Milwaukee attorneys. No state chairman has been named.

The advisory committees were established to study civil rights situations within states and make recommendations to the federal commission.

The group's first meeting, to be held jointly with the Illinois and Iowa committees, will be Friday in Chicago.

Youth Asks Lawyer in Morals Case

Changes Plea After Five Others Deny Misconduct Charges

A youth today changed his mind about pleading guilty to a misconduct charge and asked Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmieg to appoint a lawyer to represent him.

George Deltour, 17, 1303 E. Amelia street, Monday admitted indecent liberties with a 15-year-old girl when arraigned with four other youths. The other four denied similar charges and their parents posted $2,000 property bonds for each and they were released. Deltour remains in jail.

Also charged with taking indecent liberties with the girl was Darrell Greil, 18, 1018 W. Kamps avenue. The other three youths were charged with misconduct with the girl. They are Terry Howard, 18, 212 E. Harris street; Ronald Johnson, 18, 333 W. Atlantic street, and John Nystrom, 18, 514 E. Randall street.

A sixth youth, James Price, 17, 2435 N. Lyndale avenue, Tuesday denied misconduct with the girl and was jailed when he couldn't furnish $1,000 bond for hearing Dec. 4.

All but one of the youths have juvenile records and two of them have served terms in the Waukesha School for Boys.

The offenses took place between February and October in the Appleton area, the complaints indicate.

AMC Earns Net Of $4.64 A Share

Detroit.—American Motors Corp. Monday reported a net profit of $26,085,134, equal to $4.64 a share, for the fiscal year ending Sept. 30, 1958.

It was the first profit reported by American Motors since it was formed in May, 1954, through consolidation of Nash-Kelvinator Corp. and Hudson Motor Car Co.

It had a loss of $11,833,200, equal to $2.12 a share, in the fiscal year ended Sept. 30, 1958.

American Motors was the only auto-maker in the United States to have a better year in 1958 than in 1957.

George Romney, president, announced directors had voted a 5 per cent stock dividend, payable Jan. 5 to stockholders of record Dec. 5.

Board Talks Of Grades for Restaurants

Method Suggested To Assure Sanitary Handling of Food

Grading restaurants on the basis of sanitary conditions was discussed by the board of health Tuesday. No official action resulted.

The idea was advanced by Deputy Health Officer Claude N. Greisch during a general discussion of a need to upgrade city regulation of food handlers of all types.

Dr. Carl Neidhold, board chairman, and Mayor Mitchell said the idea had merit.

Means of Force

An ordinance could require the proprietor to place the official grading — A, B, C or D — in prominent view, this could act as a means of forcing compliance with sanitary regulations, Greisch said.

Mayor Mitchell said the method is used by many cities and cited instances where he observed ratings on restaurant entrances.

Ald. Mrs. Dorothy Stillings said there is need for a more comprehensive ordinance covering food handling.

Talk led to the annual examinations required for some bartenders, a move sought originally by the state bartender union, Dr. Neidhold said.

—and hence no physical examination, but which falls short of being the complete answer.

Bartenders need no license in a year.

Thanksgiving Day will be a happy one for needy families which receive baskets of food from the Junior Chamber of Commerce. JCC members met Tuesday at the home of James C. Ferron, 630 Riverview lane, to prepare the baskets for distribution. From left to right are Clifford Rondou, Mrs. James Ferron, Leroy J. Sommers, Al J. Hansen and Joseph Breisch.

amination — if they work in the presence of the tavern owner or a licensed bartender. They also need no license if they hold the tavern license or are a member of the license holder's immediate family.

Mayor Mitchell pointed out it's a year between examinations and he noted much can happen healthwise to a man in a year.

UN Force Finds All's Quiet on Gaza Strip

But Troops Will Remain in Area For Another Year

At a Gaza Strip outpost — it was so quiet the two Danish soldiers on guard were reading.

They had put aside their rifles and binoculars. The Danes belong to the U.N. emergency force (UNEF) dispatched to the Gaza strip in March, 1957, after withdrawal of the Israeli troops that attacked Egypt in November 1956.

The continued calm is boring to the 5,400-man force. But it's just what the United Nations wants.

Mountain Force The general assembly voted recently to continue UNEF for another year at an estimated cost of $10 million. The Soviet Union and its satellites refuse to pay any of the special assessments that sustain UNEF's operations.

This outpost on a hill is similar to others along a 33-mile demarcation line, a plowed furrow, that separates the narrow Gaza strip from Israel.

UNEF is deployed also along the frontier between Israel and Egypt and down to Sharm El Sheikh, which dominates the entrance to the gulf of Aqaba.

Seven nations contribute men to UNEF — Brazil, Canada, Denmark, India, Norway, Sweden and Yugoslavia. Indonesia, Finland and Colombia did at the start but have pulled out.

The Gaza strip is divided into five sectors, manned by Danish, Norwegian, Swedish, Indian and Brazilian contingents. Motorized Canadian and Yugoslav units patrol the rugged Sinai desert. Canadian airmen use three U.N. planes for reconnaissance.

Amusement is scarce in the Gaza strip. But movies are shown nightly. Library facilities are available. The U.N. sends entertainment troupes regularly to the area. Sports tournaments are organized among the various contingents.

After three months each soldier is entitled to spend one week at a leave center with all expenses paid by UNEF. Some of the men — mostly from Scandinavian countries — are asked for renewal of their assignment at the end of their normal 6-month tour of duty.

Get Back to English, Social Workers Told

Professional Jargon Loses Value Among Laymen, Speaker Contends

Social workers haven't filled their responsibility to the public, Mrs. Sanders continued. She asserted they complain about the lack of workers, yet neglect to inform the public of their work and the price tag attached to it.

"It seems a prophetic warning to your profession that it became more technical, it lost more and more volunteer laymen. The alliance of social work and politics has been fruitful in the past.

What is a father's fondest wish?

First a prayer of thanksgiving for past blessings. Now, a wish for the future.

What will it be?

Simply, perhaps, that his family will never want for the good things of life. That, among other things, they will always have a home of their own and that the children will be able to complete their education. Someday, too, a comfortable retirement for himself and his wife.

Reasonable wishes, every one. But he knows, as does every good provider, that such wishes need help in coming true.

Perhaps you had never thought of your life insurance in quite that way; something that helps make your fondest hopes more than just a wish.
